History of Beaver College

BEAVER COLLEGE for Women, Jenkintown, Pennsylvania, has the distinction of being one of the oldest institutions in the country for the higher education of women. It was founded as a seminary in 1853 at Beaver, Pennsylvania, near Pittsburgh. It received its college charter from the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 1872. It has not missed a single session from the date of its founding until the present. While many colleges and universities were forced to close for a period during the Civil War, Beaver College continued year after year and is now completing its eightieth year of service. Beaver College also has the unique distinction of moving its location across the state. In 1925 the Trustees felt that since there was a woman's college in Pittsburgh only twenty-six miles away, it would be advantageous for Beaver College to move into a new community where there would be larger opportunities. A thorough investigation of the various sections of the state was made. Jenkintown, Pennsylvania, a suburb of Philadelphia, on the Reading Railroad, was selected as the future home for Beaver College. The Trustees sold the college buildings in the town of Beaver to the Board of Education of that town for high school purposes. At the same time the Trustees bought the property of a private school in Jenkintown, the campus of which adjoined the Reading Railroad Station, only twenty minutes from the heart of Philadelphia. This new location is surrounded by large estates and has the advantage of the open country with all the conveniences and educational advantages of Philadelphia. In 1925 the College moved and began to operate in its new location.

The College was originally founded by Methodists and was under the supervision of this Church until about 1922, at which time it severed its connection with the Church and became an independent institution. It so operated until 1928. Walter B. Greenway, D.D., LL.D., a Presbyterian minister of Philadelphia, was invited by the Board of Trustees to accept the presidency of the College in 1928. Dr. Greenway accepted this invitation on the conditions that the College become affiliated with the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., that the Bible be taught regularly, and that daily chapel services be required. The Trustees having accepted the conditions named, Dr. Greenway began his work as president, May 1, 1928. In October of the same year the College was taken under the care of the Presbyterian Synod of Pennsylvania. The charter was amended, requiring two-thirds of the Board of Trustees to be members of the Presbyterian Church and requiring all teachers to be members of an evangelical church. While Beaver College is thus associated with the Presbyterian Church, the By-Laws expressly state that the teaching shall not be sectarian in any way. At this time, by charter amendment, the Board of Trustees was enlarged from seven to eighteen members. Of this number three are leading ministers, representing the eastern, middle, and western sections of the state. The other members of the Board of Trustees are leading business men, each prominent in his particular field of business. An Advisory Board, made up of representatives of the leading denominations, was appointed. Members of this Board represent the following denominations: Episcopal, Lutheran, Methodist, Baptist, Congregationalist, United Presbyterian, Southern Presbyterian, Reformed, Covenanter Presbyterian, and Presbyterian, U. S. A.

The College immediately launched upon a new era of prosperity. The growth was so rapid it was necessary to provide larger equipment. In April, 1929, the Trustees purchased the famous Grey Towers campus and buildings. The original cost of the buildings on this new campus is said to be over two million dollars. These buildings are adequate in every way for the advancement of the College. Through the generosity of Mrs. Jane M. Murphy, of Philadelphia, one of these buildings has been transformed into a gymnasium one hundred and twenty-six feet by forty-six feet, with stage equipment for dramatic performances, and a chapel seating one thousand, with a three-manual pipe organ. Through the generosity of Mr. Robert Crawford, of Philadelphia, and other friends, another wing of this same building has been transformed into modern physics, chemistry, and biological laboratories, equipped with modern appliances. These buildings and this campus are operated in conjunction with the buildings and campus at Jenkintown. The students and teachers enjoy the short ride between the campuses and recitation halls in the college busses.

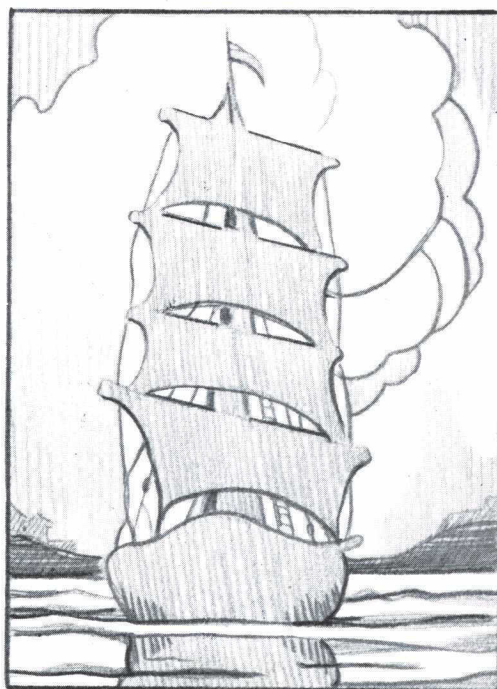

The College has also been strengthened by additions to the faculty. The present faculty consists of fifteen holding the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, fourteen holding the Master of Arts degree, and all others (except in Music and Fine Arts) holding the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Our students are admitted for advanced and post-graduate standing in the best colleges and universities in the country. At present we have students pursuing advanced work in the University of Pennsylvania, Ohio State University, University of Pittsburgh, University of Illinois, Columbia University, New York University, Syracuse University, University of Michigan, Smith College, University of Chicago, Duke University, and Mount Holyoke. While Beaver College is primarily a Liberal Arts College, it also gives training in technical courses and prepares students to teach in the public schools. These courses are approved by the State Council on Education for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and certificates to teach are granted without examination to graduates of Beaver College. Graduates are given the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Music, Bachelor of Fine Arts. The present student body represents twenty-three states, China, Japan, Korea, Mexico, Uruguay, and Porto Rico. The students of Beaver College have access to the Free Library of Philadelphia, Ridgway Library, Mercantile Library, and the Library of the University of Pennsylvania, in addition to the College library. This puts at the disposal of the students library facilities of over a million books. The students also enjoy the educational advantages offered by historic Philadelphia: art galleries, museums, operas, and churches. Recently a writer for a church paper spoke as follows: "The Church does not have anywhere a bigger opportunity in the field of Christian Education than that offered by Beaver College."

The Beechbark

Within a radius of one hundred miles there are sixteen and one-half million people, or one-eighth of the population of the United States. Beaver College is almost at the center of this immense population, yet its suburban location, surrounded by large estates, gives it the advantage of the country. During the past summer the Reading Railroad electrified its system between Jenkintown and Philadelphia, making the running time eighteen minutes, with ninety trains each way daily. The alumnae of the College are not only growing in number each year, but are showing ever-increasing interest in the welfare of the College. The recent Alumnae Journal gives the names and addresses of about sixteen hundred alumnae who are living at present, scattered over the earth. Beaver College follows each outgoing class with interest and is encouraged year by year by reports that come to the College concerning the manner in which its graduates are filling their places in their chosen fields of work. While Beaver has had phenomenal history and growth, the Trustees and Administration feel that there are even larger things in store in the near future for the College. A leading architect of Philadelphia, engaged by the Board of Trustees to make a comprehensive plan for the future developments of the College on the Grey Towers campus, has prepared drawings, which have been approved, for the erection of buildings on that beautiful campus. Thus, perhaps slowly but surely, and in accordance with well-thought-out-plans, Beaver College will be developed for present and future generations.

Greetings from the Board of Trustees

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES extends its greetings and congratulations to the Graduating Class of 1933. While we have not been privileged to come into contact with you personally as students of Beaver College, we have always had you and your welfare in mind. We have been proud of the reports that have been made concerning you by those who are intimately in touch with you. You have our very best wishes for a life of success and continued happiness in the world.

The Faculty

THE PROFESSORS OF BEAVER COLLEGE CAN ALMOST BE SAID TO PLAY A DUAL ROLE ON THE CAMPUS. WHILE THEIR PRIMARY FUNCTION QUITE OBVIOUSLY IS TO IMPART KNOWLEDGE, THEY ALSO DESCEND FROM THEIR SCHOLARLY PEDESTALS TO CO-OPERATE WITH THE STUDENTS. THEY DIRECT AND GUIDE ALL TYPES OF INTERESTING EDUCATIONAL CLUBS. THE FACULTY CO-OPERATE WITH THE STUDENT BODY IN THE HONOR SYSTEM AND STUDENT COUNCIL. THE VARIOUS PUBLICATIONS ARE GUIDED BY THE FACULTY. THE COLLEGE DISCIPLINE COMMITTEE PERMITS MEMBERS OF THE STUDENT BODY TO BE PRESENT AT MEETINGS TO PRESENT THE STUDENT OUTLOOK AND TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS. BOTH FACULTY AND STUDENTS WORK TOGETHER IN HARMONY AND FRIENDSHIP.

The Social Advisory Board

IN EACH of the main dormitories there is one room upon the carpet of which every student has trod. The Social Office is apparently the most popular office in the college. Why? Primarily because it seeks to recognize each girl in Beaver College as an individual, and to grant to her the social privileges so necessary to a well-rounded life in an academic institution.

We are fortunate in having again the five social directresses who have in other years guided our social activities. It is to them we come for pleasant room adjustments, special privileges, dance arrangements; in short, for all permissions which in any way affect our social welfare.

Beaver has been liberal in granting to her students two, and sometimes three, week-ends a month, in addition to the vacation periods. It is upon the shoulders of the social advisers that the colossal responsibility of recording and checking the week-end and vacation cards of every girl in every dormitory for every social absence has fallen. And sometimes, you know, we make a grand exodus!

All guests are presented to, and cordially greeted by, the social directresses. All our comings and goings are carefully checked by them. There must be many parents warmly grateful to them for their innumerable kindnesses.

We can't help feeling a real love for the personal element which we are ever sure of finding in our social offices. Social directresses, we appreciate you!

The Student Government Association

THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION is perhaps the only college organization of which every girl is an active member. Regular meetings, at which each girl is free to express her opinion, are held on alternate Tuesdays.

It is difficult to realize the gigantic strides which student government has made at Beaver within the past few years. We are active members of the National Student Federation, a great country-wide student movement. We were officially represented at the annual N. S. F. A. Congress held in New Orleans in December. We are in weekly communication with N. S. F. A. headquarters. And we have sent delegates to the smaller group college conferences where we have been definitely active.

The officers of the Student Government Association form a Student Council of eleven members from all classes, dormitories, and day-student ranks. There are two advisers: one, from the Social Advisory staff; the other, from the faculty. The particular aim of the Council this year has been to further student government. The Council has been fair; the Student Body has been fair. For this reason we have secured a number of long-coveted privileges. Our honor system is in an almost unbelievably smooth working order.

Delightful teas and dances have been given throughout the year through the social committee of the Council. The final and most elaborate undertaking of the year is the Student Government direction of May Day, the glorious presentation in the colorful setting our Grey Towers campus offers.

Senior Class History

FOUR years filled with work and pleasure have passed since we first entered Beaver. As freshmen we were actually initiated into the spirit of Beaver. We were the first class to be distinguished by wearing bright green berets and to be required to pour water at the tables and hold doors open for the upper classmen. All this helped us to realize the task that was before us, and gayly we attended the class activities under the leadership of our officers:

President .....DOROTHY ROBSON
Vice-President .....JUNE WILLS
Secretary .....CHARLOTTE STEWART
Treasurer .....GERTRUDE BAILEY

The autumn of 1931 found us back again at school as sophomores. This year lacked some of the glamour of the freshman year but it gave us a little more serious understanding and outlook. We began to feel a new dignity in the usual activities of the year which was especially distinguished by the appearance of the first copy of the Beaver College Review to which a number of sophomores contributed. With our leaders:

President .....DOROTHY BLAIR
Vice-President .....DOROTHY ROBSON
Secretary .....ELIZABETH BRICE
Treasurer .....CHRISTINE GEDDE

we went on to our junior year.

After electing our Junior Class officers:

President .....CORA BLANCHE PETERMAN
Vice-President .....FERN VAN ARSDALE CARTER
Secretary .....IRENE STERRITT TODD
Treasurer .....JANE DOWNING FRALEIGH

we began to make plans for the Junior Promenade. Under the chairmanship of Fern Carter we were determined to make it the best that any Beaver girl had ever attended. We felt afterwards that we had succeeded rather well. The other usual social and athletic activities hastened us on to another year—our senior year.

In the beginning of this, our last year, the seniors and faculty arose very early one morning to enjoy the customary Senior-Faculty Breakfast. Shortly after this event the arrival of the caps and gowns, and our distinction in chapel, made us feel our great importance. Everything has happened too rapidly, rushing us on to the final examinations and graduation. Now, with many promises and "good byes," our class leaves, a class distinguished especially for its numbers, which have remained remarkably unchanged from the freshman to the senior year.

The Lantern Chain

Beaver's Loveliest Tradition—The Lantern Chain

A JUNE twilight. The campus is misty with shadows. Twinkling lights come stealing through the dusk. Soft voices are lifted in a farewell to Beaver with all its work and play. The lights weave to and fro. A "B" looms up, outlined by the soft glow of Japanese lanterns and by the white dresses of seniors who are singing their goodbye. Memories of the seniors of other years, who also have carried lanterns and sung songs, come sweeping back. The juniors reply, pledging their faith to Alma Mater, bidding God-speed to friends of three years, perhaps realizing wistfully how fast the hours fly and how soon they too will be saying goodbye. The spell is broken. The lights flit away through the dark. "Goodbye, Seniors."

IN September, 1932, we returned from our holidays not as underclassmen, but, at last, as proud, enthusiastic juniors, ready to perform our upper-class duties.

Our great achievement was the outstanding event of the year, the Prom. The memory of it will not soon be forgotten. Its success was due to the creditable leadership of Florence Smith and her able assistants.

The annual Junior-Senior Breakfast, which was managed so well by Mary Kline, was another notable success. At this time, we felt as though we had actually attained our senior rights and privileges.

Throughout the year, however, we have been making careful, thoughtful, enthusiastic preparation for what is to follow for the Class of '34.

The Junior Promenade

THE Junior Promenade of 1933 was held on February 17, in Murphy Hall, on the Grey Towers Campus. The chief activities of the week-end began Friday evening at 9 o'clock with a dance, and ended Saturday evening with a tea dance and buffet supper.

Just before the dancing began on Friday evening, a reception was held by the committee for the patrons and patronesses, special guests and chaperones. Immediately after this the dancing began, the music being furnished by "Ted Black" and his orchestra. About the middle of the evening a grand march was arranged. This was led by the members of the junior class with most of the other couples following while the orchestra played the Junior Class Song. During the dance, punch was served in the promenade, and at eleven-thirty a buffet supper was served to the patrons and patronesses, chaperones, and special guests at the castle. One o'clock arrived. The rhythmic beats of the orchestra ceased. Another Junior Promenade came to an end.

On Saturday the joyful spirit of the previous evening was again revived. Many girls enjoyed luncheon in Philadelphia with their escorts, but all came bustling back by three o'clock to the tea dance which was also held at Murphy Hall, with the same orchestra as before. Between the hours of five and six, a buffet supper was served at the castle to all attending the dance. This was arranged very informally with everyone helping to serve himself and sitting with friends at large tables arranged for that purpose. Dancing was continued until seven-thirty, after which some girls returned to their own homes and others spent the remainder of the evening chatting with escorts and friends.

The Junior Promenade is always one of the most celebrated social events of the year. This year has been no exception.

Sophomore Class History

WE RETURNED in September as sophomores, determined to make this year our best. It was a pleasure to extend our welcome to the freshmen. We rushed them over to the "gym" to the Baby Party one evening, where they proved they were a lively class. We enjoyed the occasion and hope they did.

On the eve of the song contest our class showed its spirit by presenting its usual fine and "peppy" songs. Once again we watched and cheered the victory of the Class of '33.

With the coming of Christmas we were kept busy with the seasonal activities. We took our part in the bazaar, caroling, and parties.

With the advent of spring we are looking forward to the May Day festivities. We hope that on that occasion we shall see alumnae and many of our classmates back.

As the year draws to a close, we find we must bid farewell to some of our friends. At this time may we wish them every success and happiness in the future.

Freshman Class History

OUR CLASS entered college in September with the eagerness and anticipation of all freshmen. Although everything was at first new and strange, our "Big Sisters" lent a helping hand and we soon became better acclimated to our new home.

No sooner had we become somewhat settled than the "Big Sisters" invited us to the annual Baby Party. After donning our ruffles and hair-ribbons, we set out to forget that we had attained the dignified position of college students.

On the night when goblins and ghosts run free, and witches sail the sky, we celebrated with a Hallowe'en Party.

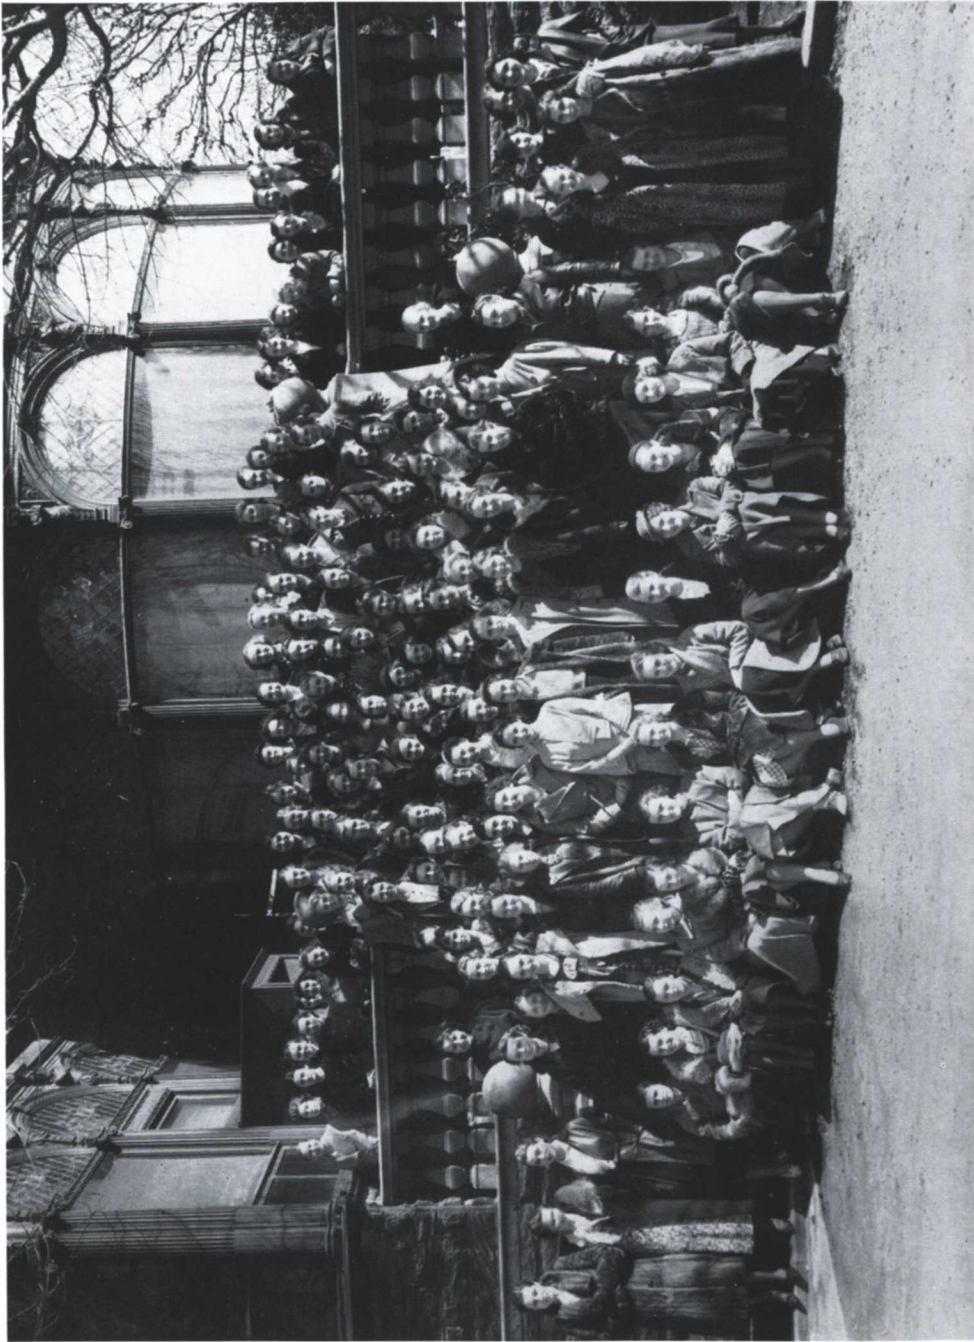

At the annual song contest, held just before Thanksgiving, we considered it quite an honor to have Eleanor Stephens' song win second place.

When we thought that we knew our classmates well enough, we elected our officers:

President .....	ELEANOR STEPHENS
Vice-President .....	CHERRY BROWN
Secretary .....	ISABELLE GOODMAN
Treasurer .....	ISABELLE LLOYD

Our class really felt its importance when Julia Giles was elected representative to the Student Board.

As our school year draws to a close it is hard to realize that we were ever strangers to Beaver.

Hockey 1932

BEAVER COLLEGE has had a most successful hockey season. Under the expert guidance of Coach Esther Hedrick, the varsity team came through the season with but a single loss.

This year, also, a class hockey program was carried out in an attempt to provide sufficient activities for every girl.

At the close of the hockey season, varsity letters were awarded at the annual Athletic Association party held at Murphy Hall, Grey Towers. Among those receiving letters were Anne Parry, Emma Parry, Margaret Murphy, Mary Taylor, Eileen Bell, Mary L. Armstrong, Florence Smith, Mary Le Fevre, Linda Lamberti and Alice Hall.

Class team players were given numerals. Margaret Murphy, President of the Athletic Association, presented a gift to Coach Esther Hedrick in behalf of the players, in appreciation of her splendid guidance. Anne Parry and Emma Parry were presented with gold hockey sticks for having played on varsity hockey teams for four seasons. Margaret Murphy received a silver hockey stick for playing three seasons on varsity.

Basketball

DUE to the spirit of the girls, perfect teamwork, individual skill, and fine coaching, the 1932-1933 basketball season was one of the most outstanding Beaver has had for several years.

Though success is not always measurable by failures and losses, it is significant that throughout the season there were but two defeats among many well-deserved victories.

The game on March 4 deserves to be mentioned especially. On that date we journeyed to Stroudsburg State Teachers College, where was played the most exciting and interesting game of the season. For three years we had lost to Stroudsburg after hard fought contests. The team looked forward to this contest, determined to change the story. Without a single exception, every member of the team displayed the finest cooperative spirit and ability to "play the game" as it should be played. Beaver was that day unbeatable! At the final whistle the score was 26-25—a real triumph.

Our games this year were rather few in number, but our opponents were all skilled in the sport and ranked high in basketball ratings.

Class teams afforded pleasant activity for the many girls who were interested in playing, but who were not quite up to the Varsity standard.

Pentathlon

President ..... FLORENCE SMITH

Vice-President ..... MARY TAYLOR

Secretary and Treasurer .... FLORENCE MURPHY

PENTATHLON is the oldest existing club at Beaver College. It began in 1913 under the name Phi Sigma Sorority, being then a group open to all varsity letter girls in the school. Since that time the constitution has been revised, the entrance qualifications raised, and the name changed to Pentathlon. The organization is now a group of girls who have met the requirements of sportsmanship, agreeable personality, and a high scholastic standing. Each girl has been a member of a varsity team and has earned one hundred and fifty points in athletic activity during a single school year.

The activities of Pentathlon are intended to stimulate interest in all forms of physical activity and to establish a mutual fellowship among the members of the group. Faculty-student competition in athletics has also been a big item on this year's program. In this way we have aroused student interest in sportsmanship and have also promoted a splendid basis for Faculty-student relations. Pentathlon has kept its representatives busy in all fields of athletic life at Beaver. So here's to Pentathlon and future success.

Athletic Association

Advisers

MISS DOLORES WARD                      MISS ESTHER HEDRICK
 MISS KATHERINE WILLIAMS

EVERY student, upon entering Beaver College, automatically becomes a member of the Athletic Association. Each girl has a vote in the annual election of officers.

Thus everyone's interest and cooperation are assured in working for a common end, this end being two-fold: sportsmanship and the spirit of fair play.

At the end of each season, awards are given by the association in recognition of athletic prowess. These include the maroon and grey varsity B, certificates, and numerals.

Beaver College realizes the necessity of the support of each student if it is to continue to hold the high place it has attained in Inter-Collegiate Athletic Activities.

Victory Song

V for the vim that we show once again.

I for the invincible grit of our men.

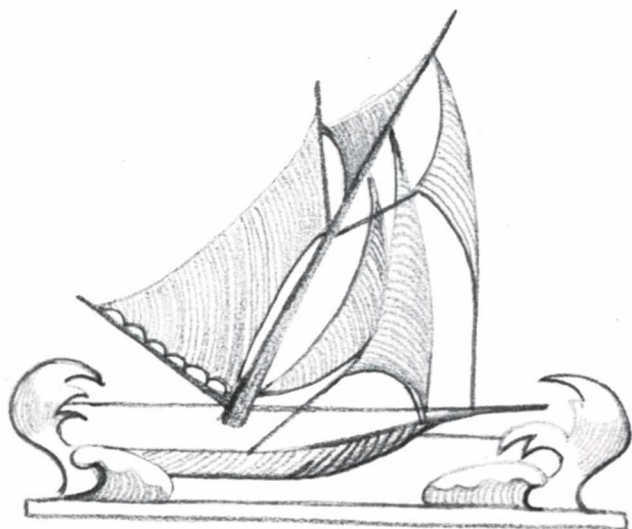

C for the captain leading us today.

T for the team that leaps into the fray.

O for outwitting the enemy's team.

R for the onward rally.

Y spells out V-I-C-T-O-R-Y for Beaver wins today.

Drama and Music

Drama

THE curtain of dramatic activity was raised for the year 1932 by the presentation of two one-act plays on November twenty-first.

The first play, Jazz and Minuet, an amusing comedy, contrasted modern youth, its life and love, with that of several generations ago. The plot itself was an interesting one and the character portrayal of the cast gave it wide appeal.

The second play, Manikin and Minikin, was a delightful fantasy, which disclosed a love affair of two china figures, who, for years, had lived upon the same mantle-piece. The clever lines which brought to light the trials of these two figures, their hates and jealousies, together with the lovely costumes, made this an amusing, light entertainment.

The next presentation, a colorful Christmas pageant, The Shepherd Who Stayed Behind, given the Sunday night before Christmas vacation, told in an impressive manner the story of the one shepherd who tended the sheep in order that the others might go to worship the new-born King. The costumes and scenery did a great deal to make this production one of artistic merit.

A children's play, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, given March fourth, was the next achievement. The play, a dramatization of the ever-popular fairy tale, more than delighted the audience of enthusiastic children.

The main project of the year, the three-act play, Little Women, given later in April, was one of the most outstanding productions in Beaver College dramatic history. The simple, yet beautiful story, which has delighted many audiences, was well interpreted by the well-chosen cast. The costumes and scenes made the characters real and vivid so that this play will live long in the memory of many.

Not content with our present victories we intend to strive on and gain new glory for ourselves. This will be either in an operetta or a Shakesperian festival.

The Senior Class play to be given in June will end the dramatic activity for the year and will also mark the last appearance of several talented seniors who have been active in the dramatic performances during the past four years.

We owe much of our success to Miss Collins who has very capably directed and coached us.

BEAVER REVIEW

Beaver College Review

PROMINENT among extra-curricular activities in the college, is the publication of the Beaver College Review. Begun three years ago, the magazine has continued into the present as a growing and vital influence in the life of the campus. It is a purely literary publication which appears four times a year.

This year, through the efforts of the staff of the Review, the students and public were given the opportunity of hearing William Butler Yeats, poet and dramatist; Captain Knight, ornithologist; and Irena Skariatina, authoress. The staff has also endeavored to stimulate creative writing by offering monetary prizes for the best literary work published in the magazine this year. There are no qualifications for work published other than that of true literary merit.

A permanent cover design and format for the Review have been adopted recently, demonstrating that the magazine is becoming firmly established as a college tradition. May it become more deeply rooted each year so that as long as there shall be a Beaver College there shall be a Beaver College Review.

BECLEX

Beclex

BECLEX has traveled far this year, and is now within easy reach of the goal set by those staunch members four years ago who saw her possibilities. Beclex hopes to become an active chapter of the national honorary fraternity Delta Alpha Phi next year by establishing the precedent of this year.

The program arranged for the year was a most imposing one, revealing the versatility which Beclexians possess.

The traditional trilogy of one-act plays was most successful, bringing many more loyal "heelers" into the ranks. The Christmas play was an inspired expression of true Yuletide spirit which brought all participants into a closer bond of friendship. Not to forget the younger patrons, the children's play revealed to all that we never grow old.

The spring program, somewhat more ambitious than the previous activities, perhaps because of renewed vigor, included a three-act play and participation in the Inter-collegiate Dramatic Alliance. The Operetta, still a tentative part of the many activities crowded into the short spring season, may become a reality, but it might be well to will it to the next year's program as a good send-off.

With the able guidance of Miss Collins, Adviser, and the redoubled efforts of all members, Beclex has added another very successful year to her calendar.

The Classical Club

THOUGH the Classical Club is not old in years, still, in its convening, we find an atmosphere of the ancient. This year we have been having a delightful time renewing our acquaintance with many famous mythological characters. And, in looking back over the centuries, we have caught a vision of the splendor and beauty of ancient Greece and Rome.

Miss Peirce, our adviser, guides and inspires our activities with her zeal and capable leadership. As a result, our membership has increased.

May we learn to focus our eyes on Kappa Kappa Alpha, and strive, like the Greeks, to fill our minds with only the beautiful and the good.

The Fellowship of the Beechwood School of Fine Arts

President.....CAROLYN ELIZABETH CALVERT
 Vice-President.....JANET VIRGINIA WEATHERLOW
 Secretary.....EMILY HARVEY HAY
 Treasurer.....SARAH JOSEPHINE AUGER

THE Fellowship of the Beaver College School of Fine Arts is a chapter of the National Federation of Art. Applicants for membership must be majoring in Fine Arts and must maintain a certain standard of achievement in their course. Mr. Nuse and the officers of the organization approve the applicants for membership. After a short pledge, followed by a formal induction, these applicants then become members.

This year, through the enthusiasm and initiative of our president, and with the co-operation of the Fellowship members, we have attended exhibitions and clubs, and have enjoyed social functions which have furthered our spirit of congenial co-operation and fellowship.

The French Club

President .....THELMA WILHELMY
 Secretary .....ELEANOR MARTIN
 Treasurer .....POLLY MENNA

THE French Club is open to all students in the advanced French courses and to students in the elementary courses whose ability makes them eligible for membership.

The meetings, which are conducted in French, are held once every two months. Sometimes short French plays are given by members of the department. Occasionally, also, French readings precede the social part of the program.

Each year the club has one meeting at which an outside speaker is present. Last year the club had the honor of entertaining as its guest, Monsieur Girond, of the Alliance Française, who addressed the club at Grey Towers. To this final meeting of the year members of the faculty of the language departments were invited.

The adviser of the club is Madame Frank, head of the French department, to whose unfailing interest the success of the club is due.

Der Deutsche Verein

Die Presidentin .....	MARIE ANDREOTTO
Die Vice-Presidentin .....	HORTENSE ROTH
Die Schriftfuehrerin .....	DOROTHY PECK
Die Kassenfuehrerin .....	LOUISE CARNAHAN

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN was organized in 1931, under the direction of Dr. Zeeb, to stimulate the interest of Beaver College students in the German language, country, customs, and literature. The growth of the club has been rapid. At the meetings, songs are sung in German and talks are given by members of the club who have traveled in Germany, or by guests of the club. At the January meeting, Mr. Charles Martin gave a delightfully humorous talk concerning German emigration to Pennsylvania.

Occasionally the organization makes trips to German movies and operas. A special feature this year was an opportunity to attend a dramatic recital by the German actor, Max Montor, given at Temple University. Mr. Montor recited stirring passages from Goethe's Faust, Schiller's Wallenstein, Schnitzler's Anatole, Widerbruch's Hexenlied, and Shakespeare's The Merchant of Venice.

The Spanish Club

President .....HELEN WORDEN
 Vice-President .....BLANCHE FULTON
 Secretary .....MARGARET VENEZIA
 Treasurer .....ELIZABETH HYDE

FOR the past three years the Spanish Club has been growing steadily through the interest and efforts of Professor Oakley. This year, for the first time, the club has been open to all members of the Spanish department. Meetings are held once each month under the direction of the various club members. Informal programs have included discussions of such subjects as Spanish customs, mysticism, the Spanish novel, drama, and poetry.

One of the interesting features of the current year was a trip to the centers of Spanish art in the city of Philadelphia. The club visited the Philadelphia Art Museum, the University of Pennsylvania Museum, a Spanish-American chapel, and the Graphic Sketch Club.

The climax of the year's activity is always the "Night in Spain," which is presented by the entire department. With a program of Spanish songs, bits of Spanish life, and a Spanish play, the club tries to provide Beaver with an evening of real Spanish entertainment.

The Westminster Guild

President .....	DAISY BURTES
Vice-President .....	NANCY CHASE
Secretary .....	KATHERINE LEWIN
Treasurer .....	MARGARET TOPPING

MEMBERSHIP in the Westminster Guild is open to any student of Beaver College who makes known her desire to become a part of an organization designed to foster an interest in missions.

Officers are elected and committees chosen from the membership. The work for the year is planned by these officers and committees who keep in mind the need to interest all the Guild members in a program of religious character.

Meetings are held on the first Sunday of each month throughout the school year, in the classroom of our patroness, Mrs. Oakley. During the first half of the meeting a program of worship, outlined by the Presbyterian Board, is followed. Music, readings, stories, talks, and Bible study give the members a fine opportunity to prepare for a life of service.

Attractive recreational activities play an important part in the work of the Guild. Dr. Barnes is the adviser for this part of the program. During the past year we have had a "doggie" roast, a steak roast, skating trips, sunrise hikes and bowling parties. The annual Christmas party was a grand affair. Later we had a Valentine party. As a climax to the brilliant year we had a farewell banquet.

Adviser ..... MRS. LILLIAN GREENWAY

THE Y. W. C. A. of 1932-1933 has endeavored to continue the splendid work of previous years and to add several new activities to its program.

In December, the annual bazaar, under the capable direction of Wilma Beabes, aroused both student and faculty interest. Each club or organization had a booth, the prize for the most attractively decorated booth being awarded to the Beclex Club. The bazaar, along with the selling of candy, fruit, and crackers in the different dormitories, is a means of making money for the "Y." This money covers the membership of the organization in the National Y. W. C. A., which amounts to one hundred dollars.

MRS. LILLIAN GREENWAY

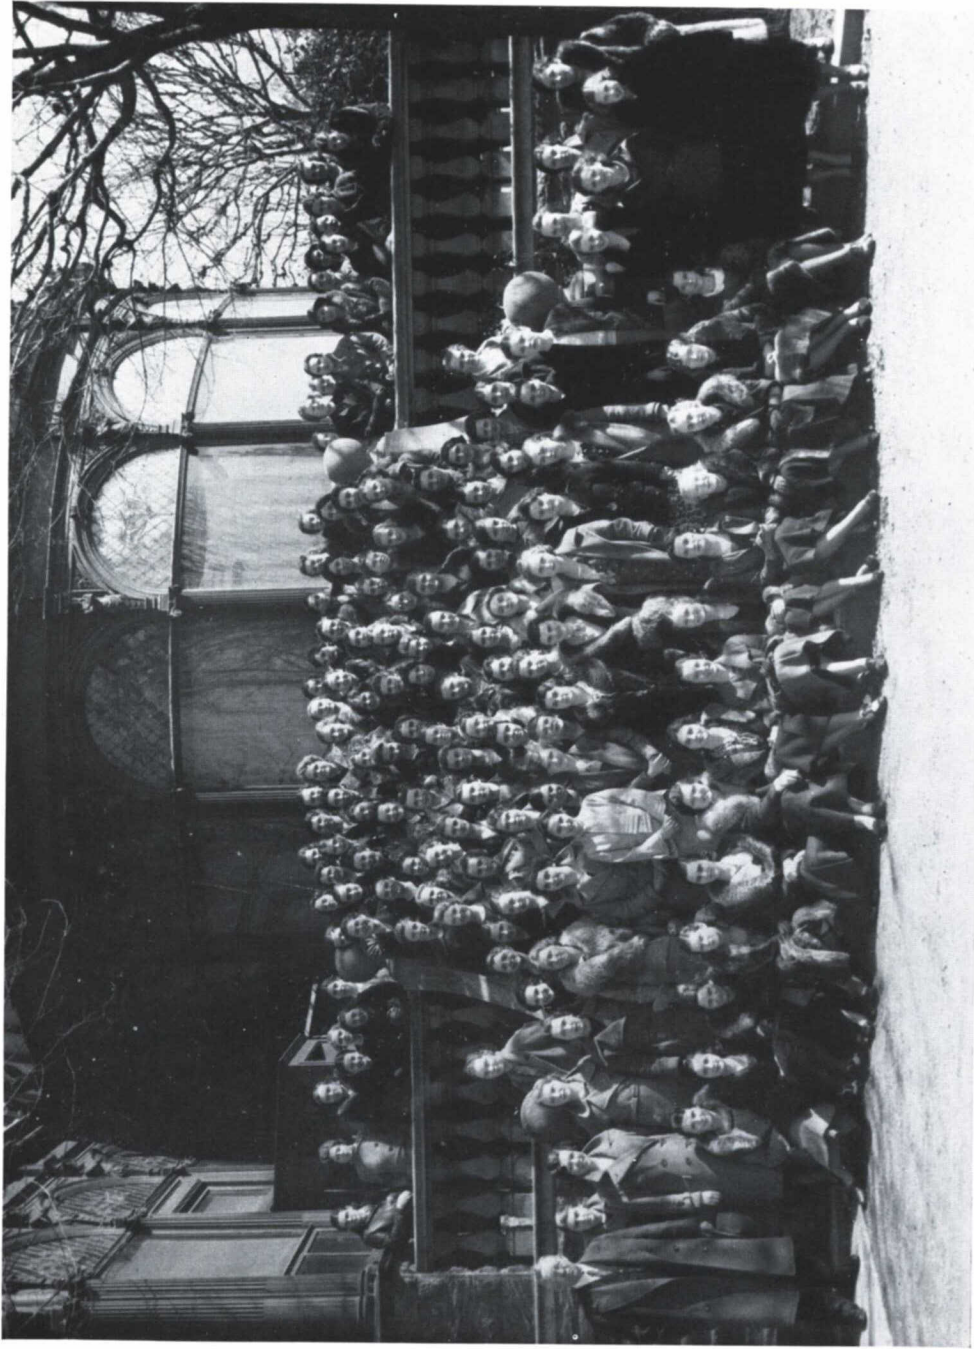

In June the association was fortunate in being represented by a member of the Cabinet at the Y. W. C. A. Student Conference at Camp Whelen, Harvey Cedars, N. J. Other conferences in Philadelphia were attended by members of the Cabinet.

Interest groups were formed for the study and discussion of economic and industrial problems of the world today. Professors from this college as well as several outside speakers led in the discussions.

Sunday afternoon vesper services at 4.30 P. M. have been conducted by splendid speakers from the Philadelphia and New York districts. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, President of the Christian Herald Association, was one of our speakers.

Our hope is that the Y. W. C. A. next year may continue to grow, and that those affiliated with it may enjoy the work it entails as much as have the members of this year's group.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club

President ..... WILMA BEABES

Secretary ..... LOIS RAYMOND

Treasurer ..... MARY TAYLOR

Librarian ..... EMMA WALTERS

OUR GLEE CLUB has once more completed a very successful year. This has been due to the untiring efforts of our capable and genial conductor, Mr. Charles Martin. Under his direction the size of the Glee Club has greatly increased, numbering this year nearly one hundred and fifty members.

Inasmuch as the Glee Club is a purely voluntary organization, except for the Public School Music students, there are no dues to pay. Each girl, however, is expected to purchase through the club at least one box of very attractive Christmas cards, the receipts of which are added to the treasury of the club.

Rehearsals are held every Monday night immediately following chapel service. In the spring evenings it is no uncommon sight to see groups of students strolling near the chapel to listen to the strains of both secular and religious music. Usually at this time of year the club is practicing for its annual concert which is given sometime in May, in the chapel of Murphy Hall, Grey Towers. To this concert the public, faculty, students, and their friends are most cordially welcomed.

Various invitations are received by the Glee Club to sing in different churches in and near Philadelphia. These are accepted at the discretion of Dr. Greenway, President of Beaver College, and Mr. Martin. Concerts are frequently given with the gracious assistance of Emily Stokes Hagar, soprano, as soloist. Other members of the club who should be mentioned are Adelaide Taylor, accompanist; Eleanor Stephens, assistant accompanist; Myra Townsend, assistant to the librarian; Mary Taylor, organist; and Miriam Erb, violinist.

To Mr. Martin we extend our sincerest appreciation of his unceasing devotion, and wish him and the Glee Club much success in all future undertakings.

The Commercial Club

President .....	JANE GIBBS
Vice-President .....	EDNA STROUD
Secretary .....	JEANNE HALFMANN
Treasurer .....	MYRA TOWNSEND
Business Manager .....	WILMA RODGERS

DO YOU remember the attractive little blue booth all sprinkled with silvery stars at the Christmas bazaar, where cards for the holiday season were sold? That booth belonged to one of the newer clubs of the school, the Commercial Club of Beaver College, which was organized last year for the purpose of stimulating interest in commercial activities on and off the campus.

Do you remember those gay, spirited girls who sold sandwiches at the faculty-student basketball game? They were Commercial Club girls, to be sure. They may be found ready and willing to help whenever there is work to be done.

The dinner given for the purpose of welcoming into the membership of the club those who have attained a sufficiently high standard in scholarship is to be an annual affair. Although the club as yet is small and really has had little opportunity to do more than get started, it has already caused quite a stir of interest among the students and holds great promise for the future.

The Chemistry Club

President .....JANE GREEN

Vice-President .....MARJORIE ERDMAN

Secretary and Treasurer .....ELIZABETH DUNLAP

Chairman of Programs .....MARY LE FEVRE

IN THE autumn of 1932, a group of students mutually interested in practical science realized the need of a Chemistry Club in Beaver College. At a preliminary meeting a committee was appointed for the organization of such a club. Through the efforts of this committee, under the direction of Dr. Sturgeon, a constitution was drawn up.

The first official meeting of the club was held at Murphy Hall, on which occasion Dr. Sturgeon gave a demonstration with liquid air. The regular meetings of the club are conducted by students or by outside speakers who discuss subjects of interest related to chemistry.

The members of the Chemistry Club sincerely appreciate Dr. Sturgeon's indefatigable efforts and cooperation. We extend our best wishes to him as our adviser and friend.

The Dormitory Council

First Semester Officers

President .....WILMA GRANTHAN

Second Semester Officers

President .....SUSAN BRATTON

Secretary .....PEARL BASTIAN

THE Dormitory Council was organized in Beaver College by the Student Board in 1930. The Council is a branch of the Board, but is entirely separate from it in its functions.

The purpose of the Council is to supervise the government within all the dormitories. It endeavors to keep the dormitories attractive, orderly, quiet, and neat. It is also responsible for the general decorum of the students on the campus.

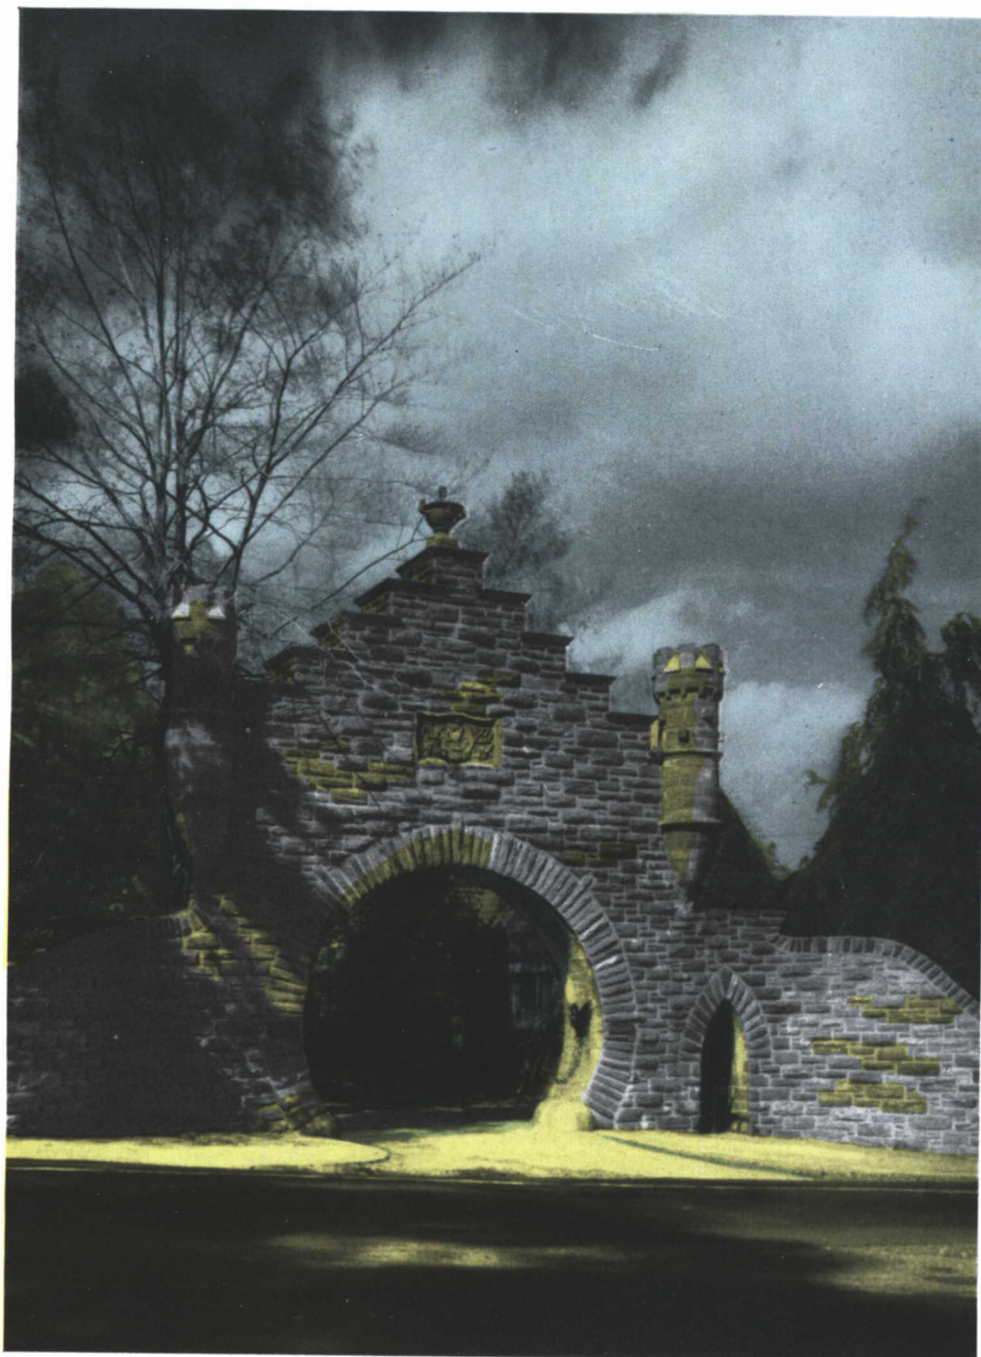

The members of the Council are appointed by the Nominating Committee to serve for one semester. The Council is composed of the presidents of each dormitory and an adviser from the Student Board.

The Dormitory Council is a new organization in the school, but throughout its short existence it has become an important factor in college discipline. Its increasing success is attributed to the whole-hearted cooperation of the students with the house presidents.

BOOKS . . . . .

continue to be ideal gifts. For your mother—and who knows better than you just what she would like; and for any of the other members of your family from your favorite uncle who likes mystery stories to your younger brother whose chief interest is in the newest adventure series, books will solve your gift problem.

HANDWORK . . . . .

Just what you need to keep your kindergarten class, on which you are practicing the latest learned teaching methods, from growing restless. Philadelphia teachers tell us we have the best selection in the city.

IN working with the Beechbark Staff for the past year it has been our aim to help produce an annual which is the leader in its class. We hope that we have been successful to the end that, year after year, the advice of each retiring Beechbark Staff will be

... who dares to attempt even the unattainable with the conscious pride of an unconquerable spirit.

Excellence in Annuals is attained. There is something a book has, or does not have—and the "ability" to know what to do to make a book different and distinctive—is something you cannot buy indiscriminately at any price.

When a Staff places their Annual in our hands, they immediately have at their disposal a service that is truly exceptional and complete. We look beyond the dotted line of the contract to broader horizons. Your problem becomes ours. Our resources of experience and facilities become yours.

Our cumulative knowledge of years in this line of work is applied understandingly and sympathetically to your specific aims. Cost is held to a figure in sensible proportion to the result to be accomplished.

Back of our organization is the spirit of "He Who Shoots the Stars"—vision—ambition—confidence—strength—and with the Staff catching this spirit along with us, the result will be an Annual which can be passed on to your Classmates with pride.
