ENTHYMION
The Arcadia Experience goes well beyond the classroom-learning and exam-taking. Arcadia provides many opportunities for personal growth and valuable memories through its campus events, student organizations and athletic programs. With the support of faculty and staff, you, the student, have made 2007-2008 another incredible year at Arcadia University by taking advantage of these opportunities. Some of the best moments of your life happened here in Glenside or abroad. Unfortunately, you can never return to the past. But, you can always relive the happiness, challenges, laughter, and excitement of this year with the turn of each page. Hold the memories of this year close and never forget your college years. But if you do, you can always relive the moment through the colorful pages of Enthymion. Enjoy.
Dear Students,

As I write this letter, I realize I have spent the last four years at Arcadia—just like most of you who are graduating this year! I know that in my four years I have seen many changes in both the University and in myself. I have worked very hard and had a lot of fun, too. I have learned many new things and developed exciting plans for the years ahead. And, along the way, I have grown to love Arcadia! My hope is that your experience has been as fulfilling as mine, and that you leave Arcadia well prepared to make your dreams reality.

This past year, we have seen the rise of the new academic building adjacent to Brubaker that in addition to providing 18,000 square feet of needed space for departmental offices and “smart” classrooms, will offer a student café that overlooks a striking new water feature reflective of the Harrison Estate’s former duck pond. New faculty residents will begin moving in this summer and classrooms will be included in the Fall 2008 schedule. Also completed this past year is the beautiful new main entrance on Easton Road, which involved the stone-by-stone deconstruction and reassembling of the towers that flank the drive—amazingly, they look like they were always situated there! Our building focus now moves to the construction of a new University Commons that will wrap dramatically around the Kuch Center and provide an exciting “living room” for the campus, as well as much needed new meeting and gathering spaces. This project is expected to incorporate “green” design features that are now a critical consideration for all future construction.

Summer 2008 will mark the 60th anniversary of study abroad at Arcadia. The program that began with a student bicycle trip across Europe has grown to include 100 programs in 14 countries! International study has become a hallmark of an Arcadia education and is no longer perceived as only for the privileged, but a critical part of a complete education that includes multicultural interaction. Arcadia was thrilled to be ranked #2 in the nation in the percentage of students studying abroad by the 2007 Open Doors Report.

After several years of design and development, this past year marked the completion of our new General Education Curriculum that has received national acclaim and will be instituted with the Fall 2008 semester. The program, which includes a First-Year Experience and a Capstone Project, will also require a Global Connections Experience and Reflection that can be met by studying abroad or studying away domestically. It will also seek to maximize student-faculty interaction and collaboration.

In 2007-2008, we also celebrated the arrival of our first International Visiting Professor, the expansion of our on-line programs, the realization of the “wireless” campus, our entry into the MASCAC athletic conference—and many other smaller steps toward an ever-better Arcadia University. As a student, you have both benefited from and contributed to this growth. As you move out into the world beyond the stone towers, I hope that you will continue to be strengthened by your Arcadia education while your contributions—as Arcadia alumni—to the global society of the 21st century, in turn, strengthen your alma mater!

Sincerely,

Jerry M. Greiner
President
The Arcadia Promise

Arcadia University promises a distinctively global, integrative, and personal learning experience that prepares students to contribute and prosper in a diverse and dynamic world.

The Arcadia Promise sums up the collective experiences of generations of alumni and the collective efforts of faculty and staff who create Arcadia’s distinguished learning environment. Arcadia students are challenged to achieve their full potential and recognize their ability and responsibility to make choices that affect the future of the world. Whether they pursue an undergraduate, graduate or continuing education path, they are part of a mutually supportive community. Through interactions with faculty, staff and peers representing a diversity of cultural backgrounds, they gain self-confidence, respect for others, learn by using the latest technologies, and acquire essential skills and knowledge that prepare them for a rich and meaningful life.
Under Construction
Construction sites are nothing new to Arcadia students. Combined with 309 roadwork and the University's own expansion initiatives, caution tape and cones have become a way of life on the Glenside campus. As part of Arcadia’s Master Plan, several major campus renovations took place this year including the new main entrance, the expansion of Brubaker Hall, improvements in the Chat, and new cobblestone sidewalks on the Easton side of campus with a new crosswalk allowing safer passage towards Oak Summit and Michael's Diner. Even parts of Greater Glenside underwent sidewalk improvements. The building doesn’t stop there. Arcadia plans to improve the Glenside campus with new buildings and athletic fields in the upcoming years.

The STUDENT is the most important person on campus. Without students, there would be no need for the institution.

The STUDENT is not a cold enrollment statistic but a flesh and blood human being with feelings and emotions like our own.

The STUDENT is not someone to be treated so they can do our thing. They ARE our thing.

The STUDENT is not dependent on us. Rather, we are dependent on them.

The STUDENT is not an interruption of our work, but the purpose of it. We are not doing them a favor by serving them. They are doing us a favor by giving us the opportunity to do so.
An important part of the college experience is moving into campus housing away from family and friends from home. For some this is a terrifying thought, while for others it's a joyous opportunity. Living on campus provides so many opportunities to have fun and meet new people. Through living with complete strangers during the first year and best friends during senior year, residents learn as much about others as they do about themselves. Arcadia has eight residential buildings, each providing a different and exciting experience. From traditional residence halls to actual apartments, there's a variety of living situations to accommodate everyone.

Grey Towers Castle
Provides Housing for up to 44 First Year Students

Kistler Hall
Provides Housing for up to 139 Students

Thomas Hall
Provides Housing for up to 59 Female Students

Dilworth Hall
Provides Housing for up to 121 Students

Heinz Hall
Provides Housing for up to 175 Students

Knight Hall
Provides Housing for up to 129 Upperclassmen

Manor Apartments
Provides Housing for up to 49 Upperclassmen

Oak Summit Apartments
Provides Housing for up to 530 Upperclassmen
For many residents, the most difficult part about arranging the furniture in their rooms is working around the limited number of outlets and the cable and ethernet jacks in the walls. This task was made bit easier this year as Arcadia introduced wireless internet access to the entire campus including the residence halls and university apartments. Now residents can surf the web from their beds, out in the hall, or in the lounge. The wireless signal reaches almost everywhere on campus allowing students, faculty, and staff to access the internet from popular social spots such as the Walk of Pride, the soccer field, the Chat, and the wishing well.

Arcadia Campus Wi-Fi

Wi-Fi Everywhere
"The coverage is truly campus-wide. This includes all outside areas in which students congregate such as the Walk of Pride and gathering spaces outside of the Spruance Fine Arts Center and Landman Library. This new wireless system will give full coverage to all academic buildings, in addition to residence halls and administrative areas."
- Param Bedi, Vice President for Technology and CIO

Wait, What about Commuters?
Arcadia has a unique Commuter Life Program which involves undergraduate staff as Commuter Assistants who work specifically with commuter students using their home away from home, the Commuter Lounge, as a base. Commuter life is enhanced by social and educational programs designed to strengthen the Commuter Community.
The Commuter Lounge is located on the ground level of Heinz Hall. This facility provides lounge and work areas, a microwave and refrigerator, TV and stereo, and lockers for commuters to store their belongings during the day. The CAs and the Commuter Student Association often use the Lounge for their programs.

Above: Junior Jes Grazel relaxes on her bed while she browses the internet via Arcadia’s new wireless network.
The Campus Life Staff (CLS) is a key component of student life here at Arcadia. To provide residents with an enjoyable experience in Arcadia's eight residential buildings, members of the CLS go through extensive training throughout the year to learn new ways to engage residents in hall programs and help mediate conflicts between residents. And while lockouts may be the most popular service they provide, CLS members also file maintenance requests, create bulletin boards, plan education and social programs, and enforce university policies. Being on staff is a full-time job and staff members often spend a lot of their time and money to make their hall or building more inviting and enjoyable for their residents. CLS members will tell you they enjoy being of service to their residents and being able to help them reach their own academic and personal goals.
Resident Assistants
Resident Assistants (RAs) are staff members within the office of Residence Life. The Resident Assistant is the most immediate link with residence hall students and serves as a resource person for the students living on his/her floor and in the hall. The RA works under the direction of an Area Coordinator (AC).

Apartment Assistants
Apartment Assistants (AAs) are staff members within the office of Residence Life. The Apartment Assistant is the most immediate link with students who reside in apartment-style housing and serves as a resource person for the students living in his/her building. The AA works under the direction of an Area Coordinator.

Area Coordinators
The Area Coordinators oversee residence halls, supervise a staff of RAs or AAs, serve as a disciplinary hearing officer, participate in campus-wide, emergency on-call coverage, and support the mission of the Student Affairs Office.

The Castle is a first-year, coed residence hall that houses residents in rooms of two to six. Students used to reside on the second and third floors of the Castle but this year, the entire second floor was converted into offices for Enrollment Management and Financial Aid while some of the first floor offices are planned to be converted into conference and meeting rooms. The Castle is also home to the President's Office and the University switchboard.

Why did you choose to attend Arcadia?
"I chose Arcadia to study abroad."

Why did you choose to be an RA?
"To help students with the transition to college."

What was the highlight of this year as an RA?
"I had a weird Mama Hen moment when the castle won Mr. Beaver. They were all dressed up in fish nets and corsets... way too much skin showing, but I was SO PROUD."
Kistler Hall

Kistler is primarily a first-year residence hall and is coed by wing. The Kistler Lounge is a popular place for club meetings and social events and every floor in Kistler requires swipe access. Students can also access Thomas and Dilworth Halls through an attached breezeway, allowing indoor passage to the Dining Hall, the Chat, and the Mail Room.

Why did you choose to become an RA?
"I was always the person that my hallmates came to Freshman year, so it just seemed like a logical step."

What was the highlight of this year as a SRA?
"I think the highlight of this year has been building an amazing community among the residents of 1st West Kistler and their friends. The CKT staff has also gotten to become very much like a family and I love spending time with them as well."

Though occasionally in the past it's been a coed building, Thomas returns this year as an all-female residence hall again housing only first-year students. Thomas is located between Dilworth and Kistler Halls allowing residents to travel through the three buildings without having to go outdoor.

Why did you choose Arcadia?
"The opportunity to study abroad in my first semester, and the community feeling.

Why did you choose to join the CLS staff?
"I wanted to get more involved in campus activities. I also wanted to meet more students and faculty and staff members. I wanted to be able to mentor and act as a resource to new students.

What have you learned from being an RA?
"I have learned better communication and interpersonal skills. I have learned more about how I learn and how other students learn.
Dilworth Hall

Dilworth is primarily a first-year residence hall and is coed by wing. It is connected to Thomas allowing Thomas and Kistler residents to pass through to the Dining Hall, the Chat and Mailroom without going outdoors. Dilworth is also home to the offices of Public Safety, Student Activities, Facilities and Conference Services. Dilworth has two main lounges which serve as popular venues for meetings and other social functions.

Why did you choose to become an RA?
"I chose to be a Campus Life Staff member because I needed to gain leadership skills as well as for financial reasons."

What have you learned from being an RA?
"As a member of the Campus Life Staff I have learned that I am able to find and maintain a balance in my life."
Heinz Hall

Heinz is the largest residence hall on campus and primarily houses first-year students but also accommodates the occasional upper-class and transfer student. The Heinz Lounge is a popular venue for meetings and social functions. Heinz is also home to the Wellness Center and the Commuter Lounge.

What have you learned from being an RA?
"OH SO MANY THINGS! Besides gaining so many people and professional skills, I'd have to say how to manage self and group goals. I have things that I like to share with my residents but they aren't always things that my residents would be interested in, so I have had to figure out ways to build community with my residents, teach them a few things and keep my sanity...all while having fun! That's a skill that will help me in whatever field I choose and in my home life."
Knight Hall RAs
Barry Hendler
Alison Petro
Alyssa Trytek (SRA)

Knight Hall houses upperclassmen in suite style rooms accommodating 5-8 students. Each suite includes a shared common room and bathroom. Each floor has its own laundry room and a lounge equipped with a kitchen. Knight is also home to Student Affairs, Student Services, Community Service, and Career Development.

KLNS Member Alyssa Trytek '09
Major: English
Hometown: East Stroudsburg, PA

Why did you choose to become an RA?
"During my sophomore year, I lived off campus and felt very disconnected. I was missing out on a lot of really wonderful programs and events. Luckily, I was able to talk to Cat Mattingly and get more information about becoming a Campus Life Staff member. I really enjoyed being involved and becoming a CLS member was perfect for me."

What was the highlight of this year as a SRA?
"The highlight of my Senior Resident Assistant career is meeting some of the greatest people I have ever come to know so far in life. And although this was my final year at Arcadia University, I plan on keeping in touch with those I have made true connections with. These people have made such an impact on me, and for that I am thankful!"
Across Limekiln Pike are the Manor Apartments. These apartments are reserved for upperclassmen and deliver the benefits of more independent living that is slightly farther from campus, but close enough to still be a part of the act.
Found between Limekiln Pike and Easton Road is Oak Summit Apartments. This building is the largest residential building owned by Arcadia and houses more than 300 upperclassmen. In various units accommodating three to five people, Oak Summit residents enjoy independence and free laundry services (for most units). Oak Summit is a little bit farther from campus than Manor and residents need to give themselves at least ten extra minutes to get to class but most will tell you it's worth it for the extra amenities.

What have you learned from being on staff?
I have learned a lot throughout my two years of being a CLS member. I met so many new people. I have met new residents, supervisors, and staff. A lot of these people I would have never had the opportunity to meet without being a member of CLS. I have grown so much professionally. I have become more punctual; I have learned how to turn in paperwork on time, and learn how to deal with people in a respectful manner.

What was the highlight of this year as an AA?
The highlight of my AA career was meeting my residents this year. I absolutely loved them. I really felt like I had a connection with them. I had matured and realized how to reach out to them. This semester I had a breakfast in my apartment and the majority of my residents came. I only had like 2 apartments not go. Everyone came and ate. They talked to me and told me about their lives and I felt like I really had a connection with them all.
Meet the new
Arcadia isn’t all about academics. We love our sports too. And while we don’t always win, our athletes are dedicated and driven individuals both on and off the field. Our teams have accumulated fourteen conference championship titles and our athletes have been awarded an abundance of All-PAC, All-Regional and All-American honors. In 2006, 94 of our athletes posted a 3.2 GPA or higher during their season of competition. Students who thought their athletic careers ended after high school can instead continue their passion for the game by joining one of Arcadia’s fourteen NCAA sponsored intercollegiate programs. Our men compete in baseball, basketball, golf, soccer, swimming, and tennis. Our women compete in basketball, field hockey, lacrosse, soccer, softball, swimming, volleyball, and tennis. Since 1953, Arcadia has been a member of the Pennsylvania Athletic Conference (PAC) but joined the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Corporation (MASCAC) bringing us members in the Freedom and Middle Atlantic Conferences this past August.
Knight of the Week

Each week of an athletic season, the Department of Athletics and Recreation recognizes one or more student athletes who have demonstrated outstanding athletic ability and performance in a game or match as Arcadia’s Knight of the Week. Below are the title recipients from this academic year. An * denotes student athletes who have been recognized as Knight of the Week more than once in their respective season.

What is your passion to be an Arcadia Knight? I've been playing soccer since fourth grade, and I had to beg my mom for three years before I could start playing. Soccer is my game and it is one sport that keeps me in control and staying out of trouble.

- Priscilla Snyder '08

How have your coaches made a positive impact on your game and your life? Rick Brownell is by far one of the best coaches I have ever played for or ever met. He goes above and beyond his coaching duties. His energy, knowledge, and love for soccer has pushed all of us to succeed on and off the field.

What does being on a team mean to you?
Being on a sports team you spend a lot of time with your fellow teammates and they become like your second family. Everybody pours their energy and soul into the same goal and you all work together to achieve it.
-Brittany Rasmussen '08

What words of advice do you have for the first-year athletes?
My advice to the first-years would be to never give up. Even if it seems to get too stressful at times it is worth it in the end because when it is all over for good you really appreciate the time you spent on the team with your teammates.

Women's Tennis
Tell us about your most memorable AU Tennis experience.

I think the most memorable has to be my last home match this year. All of the girls came around my court as they finished all their matches. I had my own personal cheering squad! I lost the first set 3-6, was down in the second set 1-4; and came back to beat my opponent in a 8-6 tie-break for the 2nd set. We played a 10 point tie-breaker for the 3rd set and I lost, but all of the girls on the team came out onto the court and all hugged and danced around me for what seemed like 5 minutes. They all came out because they knew that this would be my last match of my college career, and that it meant a lot to me! And I felt like I played one of best matches of my whole career that day!

Arcadia Goes Green

Keeping a campus green is no easy task, but Tom Macchi, Associate Vice President of Facilities and Capital Planning, finds creative ways to improve the campus, protect the environment, and save money.

It’s no accident that some facilities staff are traversing campus on golf carts instead of automobiles, for example, or that high-efficiency attic fans have been installed at the Castle to provide for induction cooling of the building. “These fans have reduced the Castle attic temperature by 20 degrees in the summer, and the cooling effects are noticeable throughout the building as there is a constant gentle air flow across the skin,” he notes.

Highlights of Arcadia’s Planet-Friendly Progress

Recycling: The biggest thing that Facilities accomplished this summer with regards to the environment is the expansion of the recycling program to the classrooms, the residence halls, many of the academic halls, and all of the 175 off-campus apartments in Oak Summit and Manor. This effort to expand the recycling program has resulted in a previously unprecedented amount of recycled material. We now recycle newspapers, glass, aluminum, and plastic than the University has ever before. This summer we laid the foundation for Arcadia’s entrance into national recycling competitions such as RecycleMania (the largest of the nation’s competitions). In addition we are also looking into the creation of an intra-campus recycling competition that would pit one residence hall against another to see who can produce the most recycled material.

PhilAbundance: Another notable environmental initiative that took place over the summer was the group work for a partnership between Parkhurst Dining Services and PhilAbundance, a local food rescue organization. This partnership will allow PhilAbundance to put to use the food that would otherwise be discarded, helping to feed the hungry and undernourished of Philadelphia.

Less Juice: Over the summer, Facilities also worked with the Office of Information Technology to implement a Computer Energy Conservation Initiative that significantly reduced the electrical consumption of computers on campus. For the most part, computers in labs and classrooms ran 24/7 unless someone took the initiative to go around and turn off every computer. It has developed a program to solve this problem. Now all of the computers in the classrooms and labs to turn off once the last lab closes at 2 a.m. The computers remain on until someone turns them on, this will result in an estimated annual savings of between $10,000 to $15,000 and reduced Arcadia’s electricity emissions by 30 metric tons of CO2.

Fall of the Earth: The final and most recent environmental development at Arcadia is the Fall of the Earth initiative. This program is in its infant stages but includes prominent members of the faculty, staff, administration as well as student representatives who are dedicated to raising awareness and institutionalizing environmental thought at Arcadia. Dr. Jeff Shultz took the initiative to call together a diverse group of passionate members of the Arcadia community. Fall of the Earth is looking to develop new First Learning Communities around environmental issues, and bring environmental speakers to campus for Distinguished Speaker and Colloquium series.
At one time, students and faculty did not believe terrible things could happen on our campus. To help raise awareness, the Civility Flag was established to inform everyone that an incident had occurred. The flag is lowered for five days whenever there is an occurrence of violence or "the subjection of another person, group or class of persons to inappropriate, abusive, threatening, or demeaning actions at any time," as stated in Arcadia University's Statement on Civility. The Campus Climate Team, whose job it is to focus on safety at Arcadia, adopted the idea from a high school that has the same type of flag for instances of violence.

Jeff Ewing, the Dean of Students said when it is lowered, "It says we need to do better, that the community is not perfect and there is more to do." He believes that it serves its purpose and declares, "It sparks conversation and reminds people of a standard to uphold."

Arcadia University's Statement on Civility

The members of the Arcadia University Community encourage all individuals and groups to behave with civility. A community upholding civility respects the rights of individuals and groups. It is characterized by understanding and considerations of the differences among members of the community. The diversity of the University adds to the richness of campus life, and Arcadia University expects all members of the community to respect both differences and commonalities. The University acknowledges every community member's constitutional right to freedom of speech and freedom of inquiry. Arcadia University also affirms every community member's right to an environment that is free from harassment of any kind. The University will not tolerate the subjection of another person, group or class of persons to inappropriate, abusive, threatening, or demeaning actions at any time.

Working Towards Civility

The membership of the Civility Group has identified the following as important elements for individuals' consideration in an effort to work toward civility in the Arcadia University community:

- Respecting the dignity of all persons
- Respecting the rights and privacy of others
  - Acting with integrity
- Striving to learn from differences in people, ideas, and opinions
  - Discouraging bigotry
- Demonstrating concern for others, their feelings, and their need for conditions that support their work and development
Student Organizations

Through student-run clubs and organizations, Arcadia students learn the art of leadership and teamwork. They also gain valuable experiences that help build their resumes. Most of all, becoming involved in an organization on campus is a sure way to guarantee some fun and exciting times. And with over thirty different clubs and organizations, there’s enough variety to appeal to everyone’s interests. Organized by type, the student organizations featured on the following pages were registered by the Student Activities Office as “active” through the 07/08 academic year and are regulated by the Student Government Organization (SGO).

Arcadia is known for its small and personal campus. It often seems like you know every person you see. Take our Arcadia Guess Who Challenge and see if you can identify the members of our community found on these pages.
Campus Events

When a university houses hundreds of students for eight months, it needs to provide them with something fun to do when they're not studying - which is probably most of the time! Starting the first week back, numerous events cover the calendar keeping students entertained and educated. These events are sponsored by Arcadia student organizations or the Office of Student Activities. Careful collaboration works to prevent events from overlapping to make sure there's almost always something to do on Arcadia's campus. The year's biggest annual events are captured on the pages that follow.
Keeping Us Busy
Student Activities Keeps Campus Buzzing with Excitement

The Office of Student Activities, located in Dilworth Hall, is the department of Student Affairs responsible for almost all of the Arcadia-sponsored events that happen both on and off campus. Student organizations looking to plan events meet with the Director or Assistant Director to iron out the details and get rolling in the right direction. Organization leaders will then contact Conference Services to reserve available spaces on campus for their event. Student Activities also sponsors its own events such as monthly Bingo Night in the Chat, trips to Broadway shows, Blitz Carnival, leadership workshops, and the biannual Clubs and Activities Fair.

New Student Arrival

Arcadia University welcomed the Class of 2011 on August 24, 2007. The first day of New Student Orientation begins with the Arrival. After finding somewhere to park, new students and their families made their way to Kuch Center for check-in and to pick up keys. Then they drove around campus to their new homes: the Castle, Kistler, Thomas, Dilworth, or Heinz Hall. None of these buildings have elevators, and it was rather warm outside. Fortunately, when new students move in, they're assisted by athletes, faculty, and staff. After arriving and moving belongings, everyone on campus returned to the Kuch Center for the President's Welcome. Afterwards, new students and their families got to enjoy an outdoor picnic until late afternoon when it was time for students to say goodbye to their parents.
"Look forward to unloading the car. It's taken you three weeks to pack [it]. And you're on the third floor...and then suddenly, all these people come out of nowhere and then swoop down on your car and take everything up to your room in just minutes."

- Jan Walbert
New Student Orientation

Once they're comfortably moved-in, new students begin orientation: a week full of fun and learning. Led by Orientation Leaders, new students make their way through a busy schedule that includes seminars, lectures, games, and activities designed to help prepare them for success at Arcadia. The week concluded with a day of community service during which new students volunteered at various places in the community. Finally, New Student Orientation ended with Convocation in Stiteler Auditorium and returning students moving-in the following day.
The Most Fun this Fall

The Knight Sky was decorated with fireworks again this year during Arcadia's annual Fall Fest & Family Weekend. Activities began on Friday, October 5 and continued throughout the weekend. Saturday was the highlight of the weekend with the Family Weekend Carnival during the afternoon followed by a showing of Ratatouille in the Chat, Casino Night in the Castle and the Fireworks Spectacular above Landman Library. Sunny skies made this weekend perfect for the enjoyment of the entire Arcadia Community.
Mr. Beaver

This annual event is Arcadia's own way of doing a male beauty pageant. Contestants portray various celebrities and familiar characters and compete in different competitions that display their talents and physical form. This year, the competition saw various portrayals, including Rihanna, Tyra, and this year's winner, first-year student, Adam Darrow as Dr. Frankenfurter. Mr. Beaver is sponsored by the Student Programming Board.
Masquerade Ball

Sponsored this year by both RHC and BAS, the Masquerade Ball brought happy hauntings again to Grey Towers Castle. This dance is always a big hit bringing out the ghoul in every student with creative costumes galore. While the dancing took place in the Great Hall, the Rose and Mirror Rooms were filled with festive treats for those in need of a break.
Empty Bowl Dinner

Hundreds of campus and community members joined the fight against hunger and homelessness on Monday, Nov. 12, at the annual Empty Bowl Dinner in Grey Towers Castle. Since 1993, Arcadia University has been holding the Empty Bowl Dinner to help fight hunger and homelessness in U.S cities as well as other countries. This year's proceeds went to Heifer Project International and the Philadelphia Interfaith Hospitality Network.

Everyone who attended selected a handcrafted bowl made by Arcadia students and local artists in and around the community. An assortment of mouth-watering soups, amazing breads, and desserts were donated by local restaurants.

Celebrating Cultures!
Knight Madness

Let's Go Knights!

Knight Madness rocks Kuch Gymnasium every November with contests, music, prizes, and school spirit to excitingly usher in the winter season of athletics and recognize the efforts and achievements of all our student-athletes. The spirited event also included the much anticipated Faculty/Staff vs. Students basketball game, and the display of the Knight Madness posters, created by student organizations and students living in the residence halls. Knight Madness is sponsored by RHC.
Learning Communities

Fall Informal Festive Shindig Extravaganza Blowout

The First-Year Learning Communities sponsored a day of jousting contests, sword fighting, and sumo wrestling on November 9, 2007. This campus event also helped raise money for a number of charities.
Late-Night Breakfast

Free Pancakes and Fun
The Late-Night Breakfast is Arcadia's most delicious tradition. Each semester, Faculty, Staff, and Administration team up with Parkhurst to serve up a night of free breakfast foods for students on the night before finals week. This scene of social snacking helps students forget about the stress of studying if only for a few hours and demonstrates Arcadia's commitment to helping students prepare for final exams.
Cotillion
An Underwater Fantasy
This year, Cotillion was held at the Adventure Aquarium in Camden, NJ on March 1. Hosted by RHC, the event is Arcadia’s equivalent to a typical high school prom, but slightly less formal. Each ticket provided attendees with transportation, a buffet dinner, and of course a night of dancing. With a venue as unique as the Adventure Aquarium, Cotillion was much more than a dance. It was almost like a field trip too. Arcadia students had access to most of the lower level of the aquarium with many attendees spending as much time observing the creatures of the deep as they spent ‘shakin’ it.
Spring Preview
Lip Sync
Blitz!

Spring Fling
The sun shone bright on this year’s Blitz! Carnival. Sponsored by the Office of Student Activities, the annual carnival along the Walk of Pride features an assortment of activities and contests provided by Arcadia’s many student organizations. As per tradition, SAAA held their annual Jello Tug-of-War contest where students from different years compete to win money for their class. Attendees also enjoyed raffle prizes and carnival-style snacks.

Arcadia Fast Facts

Arcadia University serves a student body of more than 3,700 undergraduate and graduate students, both full-time and part-time.

Students enjoy personal attention from a caring, learned faculty, with a student-to-faculty ratio of 13:1; Average class size of 16.

More than 89 percent of Arcadia University’s full-time assistant, associate and full professors have doctorate or terminal degrees in their field.

The First Year Study Abroad Experience gives select incoming students the chance to spend their first semester in England, Scotland, or Ireland.

Undergraduate Alumni Giving Rate is ranked in the top 10 percent of all colleges and universities.

All accepted students are considered for scholarships and financial aid.
Making it to and through senior year is the ultimate goal of all college students. And while senior year may have the hardest classes and the challenging thesis requirement; it also has the biggest payoff in May than any other year: graduation. For the past four years the Class of 2008 has formed a cohesive entity by supporting one another and creating lifelong friendships and limitless connections through classmates, university employees, and alumni. And though the year has ended, they will continue to learn not as students of the University but as students of the World.
Dear Graduates of 2008:

The opportunities you have before you are limited only by your imagination and your desire to make wonderful things happen. Your education at Arcadia University, the varied experiences on campus and around the world, and most importantly the friendships you have developed will contribute to your success in the future.

Each year I am asked to write this note to be included in the yearbook. Each year I struggle to imagine what this campus will be like next year without the graduating class members. Each year I cherish the incredible contributions you have made to this university. And, each year I smile when I acknowledge how much students have done to enhance the experiences of all of us on campus. Your energy, dedication, and commitment are all attributes that those of us who watch classes come and go observe annually. It is no small feat to touch the lives of many; however, individually and collectively, the Class of 2008 has accomplished just that. From your first community service activities during orientation to your senior week commitments, you continuously reached out to others, found friends who will be by your side for a lifetime and inspired others to be leaders as you have been.

As you look back on your time at Arcadia University, I hope you will consider the many challenges you faced and overcame. I hope you find just the right balance of remembering and moving forward, knowing the roots you have here will always be special and the seeds you planted will be valuable for students in the future. Our campus changes from year to year, both in terms of physical attributes and in terms of the people and faces on campus. When you come back to visit, though some things may appear to have changed, be assured the faculty and staff will always be committed to our students. Be sure to seek out those faculty and staff members who know your name, or who supported you when you were making a difficult decision, or who were sure to congratulate you on your accomplishments.

My parting wish for each of you is to make the most of your opportunities. As you have throughout your career here at Arcadia, take advantage of the chance to understand the world – here and abroad. Reach out to learn about others and be proud of who you are and all that you have accomplished. You have made a tremendous difference at Arcadia University – you now have the opportunity to make a difference in the next communities where you will now live, work and go to school. Take this responsibility seriously, and you will be successful in leaving a positive mark wherever you go.

I look forward to seeing you when you return as alumni and wish you each tremendous success in all you do.

Sincerely,

Jan Walbert
Vice President for Student Affairs
The Class of 2008 celebrated 87 Days till Commencement this year on February 19. Sponsored by the Student Alumni Ambassadors, this annual event brings seniors, faculty, and staff members together in Grey Towers Castle to begin the countdown to Commencement.
The families of more than 400 undergraduate students gathered in the Kuch Center on Friday, May 16, 2008 to celebrate the ultimate accomplishment in their student's life: graduating from college. Surrounded by their friends, faculty, staff, and administration, Arcadia University's Class of 2008 proudly accepted their diplomas and passionately tossed their caps into the air. The commencement ceremony not only marks the end of students' university life but also the opening of the door to new opportunities, aspirations, and the many achievements Arcadia has prepared to them to attain.
Alma Mater dear,
The years have o'er thee swept
But stainless still through time and tide
Thy splendour thou has kept.
So hail Arcadia; hail we say!
Fling high the scarlet and the gray.
We shall keep irradiant with truth
Thine everlasting youth.
Mother tried and true,
We pledge our life to thee.
We pledge thee all our fullest faith
In loving service free.
So hail Arcadia; hail we say!
Fling high the scarlet and the gray.
To the finest in the land
We lay down our heart and hand.

Senior Reflections

Enthymion asked members of the Class of 2008 to reflect on their time at Arcadia. Here’s what they said...

Natalie Harris
Which campus event did you most look forward to every year and why?
“I looked forward to New Student Orientation every year. I must admit that being an orientation leader was the highlight of my life. The excitement and energy put into planning and conducting orientation warmed my heart. Just knowing that I am a role model to the incoming first years and being one of the first people to connect with them and get them acclimated to Arcadia’s campus gave me a reason to press on through my studies and journey at Arcadia University. Being one of the orientation leaders of the year this past fall made my last time being an OL memorable. Helping others is something that comes natural to me; I’m glad I had an opportunity to participate in this during my time at AU.”

“Studying abroad has affected my life in every way possible. I felt more mature, cultured, and more focused on my goals in life. It was something I may not be able to do again, but it definitely broadened my horizons. I would recommend that everyone tries to study abroad at least once.”
- Bryan Alexander

Jade Mostyn
What will you miss about college?
“I will miss having my friends around me all the time. However, I think more than anything else I will miss being able to roll out of bed 5 minutes before class. I don’t think the ‘real world’ lets you wear your pjs all day. Haha.”

Brittany McCall
How has studying abroad impacted your life?
“Studying abroad has affected my life in every way possible! I never had a passport before I came to Arcadia. Now, I’ve had the opportunity to go abroad every year that I’ve been at Arcadia. I studied abroad Spring of 2007 in Dublin, Ireland where I interned in the Irish Parliament, and I’ve also had the opportunity to travel to Beijing, China, Geneva, Switzerland, and Pueblo, Mexico to participate in Harvard’s World MUN Conference. And as a first-year student, I traveled to England on Spring Preview. I’ve learned so much about myself through all of these experiences, and it has truly solidified what I want to do with my life. I’ve truly grown as a person, and I love what all these experiences have allowed me to become. I’m so much more of an independent person now, and all my traveling has taught me how to handle difficult situations on my own, when they arise.”

“As excited as I am to graduate and be done with writing papers, I am going to miss living with my best friends and seeing everybody all the time. After four years of seeing people everyday, it is a big change to make.”
- Rebecca Gillam
In Memory of Carisa Leary

There is so much more to a life than years. There is so much more to time spent with someone than minutes. Carisa Leary spent too few years with us, but each minute was a lesson on how to live life to the fullest and never let anything stop you.

Carisa was the kind of person who you instantly knew cared. She had a lively spirit. You couldn't tell her no. Trust me, many people tried and each and every time she proved them wrong. No matter what the obstacle, how much time it would take or how hard the work was, Carisa would eventually prove that whoever doubted her had no idea what they were talking about.

While she was tough and determined, Carisa also was a very deep and compassionate person. She always made time for friends and family, whom she loved deeply, and art. Carisa will forever be an artist and every bit of her personality can be seen in the artwork she left behind. All the amazing pieces Carisa created in her life show the beauty she found in everything. Her joy in the art-making process can be seen in every stroke of every painting and every creation made in our ceramic studio. Although illness was a large part of her life, Carisa never let her illness or struggles define who she was. Even after having to take a year off from school and spending most of that time in the hospital, as soon as she could, she went right back to working for her diploma. She knew she had a lot to offer the world and her mission in life was to share her gifts with everyone she could.

If you wanted Carisa as a friend, you only needed to be yourself (and it was also important that you share in her love for Harry, her chinchilla). Her love for life and celebrating every moment left a lasting impression on everyone she met. She loved to chat and had a thousand great stories to share. I always loved watching her tell stories because she displayed so much passion and never hid any emotion. If she was mad, you would know it. If she was worried about someone, you would know that, too.

Carisa hated to see anyone suffer, which is probably why so much of her life was dedicated to helping others. Every summer, Carisa worked proudly at the Ronald McDonald Camp and considered all her campers as her own kids. In the weeks prior to her death, she was working to have a memorial statue constructed in the Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia for all the children who passed away. This was a very important project to her and showed her continued dedication to help the people around her.

On campus, Carisa was involved in the Arcadia Association of Fine Arts and the Special Athletes Association. Aside from these organizations, you would probably find Carisa in the library working hard (she never procrastinated), in the Ceramics studio working on her thesis, or just walking the campus with a huge smile on her face. I never saw her pass anyone without smiling. Smiling was her way of living, and, for many, her smile will forever be a part of the Arcadia Campus.

CONGRATULATIONS!!!

Dear Brittany,

Your four, amazing years at Arcadia have changed our lovely, young girl into a polished, world-traveled, young woman. We are so proud of you and your outstanding accomplishments! Face your new challenges with your enthusiasm and confidence and we know you will succeed! We loved watching you grow in wisdom, age and grace and know we are blessed to have you.
Love, Mom, Dad, Catie & Mom-Mom Mc Call.

Kelly,

I hope that the days come easy and the moments pass slow, And each road leads you where you want to go, And if you’re faced with a choice, and you have to choose, I hope you choose the one that means the most to you.
I hope you never look back, but you never forget, All the ones who love you, in the place you left, I hope you always forgive, and you never regret, And you help somebody every change you get, You find God’s grace, in every mistake, And you always give more than you take.
Your dreams stay big, and your worries stay small, You never need to carry more than you can hold, I hope you know somebody loves you, and wants the same things too.

This is our wish,
Lots of love,
Dad, Mom and Nicole
ALICIA RAE TORPEY

Princess: You are so strong and you have proven it by all that you have accomplished. Alicia Rae, you have made me so proud! You are my sunshine! I thank God everyday for you! My wish for you is that all good things come your way. SUCCESS IS IN YOUR FUTURE! I love you so much. You are a phenomenal daughter. Congratulations and best of luck, sweetie. Love Always & Forever, Mom

Dear Alicia Rae: As I sit here thinking of what to write to you, it’s difficult explaining how I feel. It’s a feeling of overflowing love, and wishing you were here with me now. I find myself reflecting on early days when you started St. William School, the Father/Daughter Breakfast, and the crayon drawn picture on the wall of us at Bob’s Big Boy. Now you are attending Arcadia University and about to receive your degree. Here I am still with you and as proud as proud can be. Best of luck in the future! May all your dreams come true! If you ever encounter a road block, I’ll always be there for you! Lots and Lots of Love, Your Dad

Alicia: “An investment in knowledge always pays the best interest.” – Benjamin Franklin

May your investment pay off. We hope you find success and happiness in your future endeavors. Congratulations and best of luck. Love, Jim and Megan

Aunt Alicia: Congratulations and Good Luck! We love you! Love, Jimmy and Melissa xoxo

Alicia: I could write a book about you but there is not enough space on this page to do so. I am very happy and proud to be your grandfather. Good Luck throughout life. Love, Your Pop-Pop

Congratulations Alicia on everything you have achieved and a job well done! We wish you all the best in your future endeavors. We all are so very proud of you. Love, Aunt Pat, Uncle Paul & Crew

Alicia: Wishing you Love, Luck, and Success in all your present and future endeavors. This is something you have worked hard for, and you deserve the best. Love, Aunt Mary and Family

Alicia: I remember the days when you worked with me, now look at you – you are a young woman who has accomplished so much! Congratulations! We are very proud of you. Best of luck in the future! Love, Aunt Mo, Uncle Barry & Family

Alicia: Great Job! We’re so proud of you... Good luck in all that lies ahead. Love, Aunt Kathy, Andrew, Tim, Michael, and Jon
To My Sister & Aunt Beverly

We got a letter from heaven! It read:

Look at you with your cap and tassel, I see you. It seems like yesterday we were just kids. It’s a long and challenging journey to get a college degree; now your efforts shall pay off. Remain humble; realizing that your abilities are gifts from “God”. May your new path take you wherever God may lead you, and may you have the desire to make a difference!

Congratulations & We Love You

Your Sister Cyn, Hudson, Merritt, Lisa, Lil Hud, Brianna, Autumn & Jordan

-Aristotle

Beverly, you are definitely an independent thinker. When you decided to return to school, you didn’t let anything deter you. You held a full time job, while maintaining high academic standards. With your degree in hand, and God at your side, it’s time to turn the page and continue life’s journey to the next level!

The Star of Our Life and Center of Our Stage
Class of 2008 – Arcadia University

"You Did It"

This is the moment you have been waiting for, school is done and now you can become a star. For us you were a star a long time ago. We still have the “star balloon” we brought you the night you performed for the first time on stage at the age of four. Your first performance was at the “Academy of Music” in Philadelphia singing and dancing to “Give Me A Little Kiss”.

Celebrate this moment; enjoy your day in the sun, because you have earned it with your endless hours of hard work. If we could wish you anything it would be to never let the light inside of you go out, to stay determined to succeed, and that all your dreams come true. Never rush time and enjoy all the moments of your life.

You have made us proud of you so many times. Whether it was your grades in school, watching you perform on the stage and ice or by just being you, but our proudest moments right now are the semester you studied aboard in London in 2006 and today, May 16th, 2008 watching you received your college diploma.

We will love you always and unconditionally,
Mommy and Daddy
Pre-school to Kindergarten – first day Gateway 1989 – You started pre-school. You were in the afternoon class. As we walked into the room you said, “see you later mom” and went off to color at the table with the other children. I did not want to leave you but I had to go. So, I went home to wash clothes, to keep busy for 2 ½ hours, till it was time to pick you up.

Grade school – first day Epiphany of Our Lord 1992 – as you joined the line with the other children, I video taped you leaving down the street tears began to rolled down my cheeks. I cried for the first two days you went to school but on Monday morning I knocked on the door and said, “I wanted to volunteer here, my daughter just started school.” I stayed all eight years you were there.

High School – first day Saint Maria Goretti High School for Girls 2000 – I dropped you off in the morning and said, “I would be back to pick you up at the end of the day.” When I did not see you come out of the building with all the other students I went inside and asked the office to page you, because I thought you were lost and I could not find you. You came into the office and said mom, “I was just at my locker.” I needed to volunteer here too.

College – This by far was the hardest of all because we had never been apart before. The first day at Arcadia University 2004 – it was move in day and we came in separate cars. Daddy drove a rented van with all your stuff and I drove our car. When we finished moving you in daddy left first. I stayed as long as I could and was the last parent to leave the campus, I think. You walked me to the car and said, “everything will be alright.” As I watched you walk into the building tears began to fall. I did not know then how much our lives would change during these last four years. They seem to be the hardest. I could have volunteered here too. I received many letters but, I just decided to let you go.
To Angelina also known as “La”
Wow! How quickly time flies by. You were only 6 when I entered into the family and you were a happy, talented, full of energy and a beautiful little girl! Now you’re a beautiful, talented and ambitious woman! You have strength and determination along with good morals and wisdom which will make you become a big success in life...I’m so proud of you and of all the accomplishments that you have made and will continue to make in your shining future!! We all love you!!!
CONGRATULATIONS!!!!!!!

“Let us think the unthinkable, let us do the undoable. Let us prepare to grapple with the ineffable itself, and see if we may not eff it after all.” Douglas Adams

I’ve never been much good at getting attached to places, but after all this time, it’s almost strange to be facing life after Arcadia. What do you do when you’re no longer a student? I suppose I’ll figure it out as I go, the way I always do, and I suppose you’ll be there to make sense of the social stuff for me, the way you always do. That’s why graduating is fine with me. I’m leaving plenty of things behind, but I’m not moving on from the one thing I really wouldn’t know how to do without: you.

You’ve filled my life with adventure, and drama, and yes, occasionally frustration. You’ve witnessed my greatest triumphs and my most embarrassing failures. The truth is, I’m amazed and hopelessly grateful that you can know me so well - my weaknesses and mistakes included - and still keep a place for me in your heart. Really, are you nuts?

I won’t list the moments with you that made college so wonderful. I’d have to list nearly every moment we spent together. All I can do is say that in all the world, with it’s myriad mysteries and it’s secrets, there is nothing and no one that I find more beautiful or more worthy. I wish to make no memories unless I can share them with you.

We walked through the fire, baby, and now it’s time to live.

I love you.
I’m proud of you.
And I knew you could do it all along.
~Michael

Enthymion Yearbook Organization is a student organization at Arcadia University which holds the responsibility of creating the annual yearbook, Enthymion.

Before Beaver College became Arcadia University, this student publication was known as The Log. The current name was chosen in the fall of 2002 when the Yearbook Staff decided the name of the school's yearbook should more appropriately match the new name of the institution and its mission.

'Enthymion' [en thee' me un] is a word meaning nostalgia, or keepsake. Like 'Arcadia', it comes from the Greek language.

The Yearbook Staff would like to acknowledge and graciously thank Professor Joshua Blustein for his continued support over the years. He has generously contributed many of the dazzling photos featured in this year's edition.

The Yearbook Staff would also like to thank the following people for their support and assistance during the production of the 2008 edition of Enthymion:

Dian Taylor-Alleyne, Adviser
Nick Luchko, Adviser
Sue Gettlin, University Relations
Melissa Leon, Student Contributor
Christine Passaglia, Student Affairs
Michèle Leftwich, Student Activities
Katie Kelly, Human Resources
Barbara Kulp, Information Technology
Tyler Mitchell, Information Technology
Phil Klein, Jostens Sales Representative
Dee Skelton, Jostens Plant Consultant
Tim Scott, Spencer Studios

Enthymion Yearbook Organization supports Give Kids The World, a non-profit organization that provides fantasy vacations at their whimsical resort in Kissimmee and tickets to Central Florida's premier attractions for the families of children with life-threatening illnesses. A portion of our 2008 sales was donated to GKTW.

Like most college students, I've spent the past two years always on the go. Between classes, staff meetings, studying, club meetings, and campus events I was constantly racing against the clock trying to accomplish a mile-long to-do list always hoping May would be right around the corner. Now, looking back on the past two years, I can't believe how quickly that time went by. I can still remember the first time I ever stepped foot on campus and now it's hard to believe I'm saying goodbye.

During the past two years, I've had the opportunity to be heavily involved on campus; my highest level of involvement being Editor of the yearbook. When Enthymion lost its spirit and direction after the graduation of its leaders in 2006, I decided that I had to step up and not let the book die. In the spring of 2007, not fully aware of the enormous responsibility, I became the new Editor in Chief. With a small staff of limited experience, I struggled to complete the 2007 edition. It turned out to be pretty decent and a few months later I found myself diving into the next edition. Despite the amount of work involved, I love being involved in the creation of a school's yearbook and have been in the business since eighth grade. Yearbooks serve not only as a way to look back on your school years but also accurately reflect the culture and spirit of the school community during that specific year.

This last page of the 2008 edition of Enthymion marks the conclusion of my time at Arcadia. I've been given many opportunities to succeed and I would like to thank those who helped me become who I am today and without whom, I wouldn't have been as successful in my many endeavors.

My yearbook advisers Dian Taylor-Alleyne and Nick Luchko really took a chance when they let me take the reins and have full control over the book for the past two years. Without their sound advice and unfailing support Enthymion, wouldn't be what it is today.

I also want to thank Julie Grillo, Michele Leftwich, Chris Piazza-Reim, Kate Hendel, Maya Stewart, Abby Wang, and Stephanie Verenski for being amazingly supportive and admirable friends. I'll always treasure the memories we've shared.

Being a member of the Campus Life Staff is an invaluable experience that opened many doors for me. Still, the best part of being an RA for me was the friendships made. When I started CLS Training in August, I had no idea that my fellow staff members Corey Farris and Alyssa Trytek would later become my best friends. These two amazing individuals helped me discover what true friendship really is. At the time of this letter, school has been out for at least a month and I'm still in touch with these lovely ladies at least once a day. Thank God for Facebook and text messages!

Lastly, I want to thank every member of the Arcadia Community for all the memories. Without all of you, there would be no yearbook to create. At the time of publication, there is currently no Yearbook Staff members returning to Enthymion in the fall as we all have our own goals and agendas to pursue. I wish nothing but the best of luck to whoever decides to take up the torch in the future. And yes, it really is worth all the effort!

Perhaps the length of this letter demonstrates my reluctance to leave and let go of everything that sums of my Arcadia Experience. But that's the point of a yearbook isn't it? To be able to move forward in life, knowing that you can always glance backwards a few times and remember all the good times.

All the Best,

Dustin Krautter
