Reflecting on the Past. With a Vision for the Future

BeaverCollege

The Log

Angela J. Wagner
Dear Class of 2001:

T. S. Eliot writes:

*Time present and time past
Are both perhaps present in time future,
And time future contained in time past.*

Perhaps in no other time in the recent history of our institution are we more aware of change and continuity. You, the graduating class of 2001, occupy a very special position in that time—you are the last class to graduate from a college called Beaver. It is not that your alma mater ceases to exist, or that it will be unrecognizably changed; rather, it is that you have been part of the quiet, but purposive evolution symbolized this coming year by a new name and status for our school.

Those of you who have been at Beaver College since 1997 have been part of the last phases of this evolution—almost a new building a year in the form of a 120-bed suite-style residence hall, a remodeled and expanded dining hall, and a new high-technology classroom building (Brubaker Hall); plus a number of new majors in both the graduate and undergraduate schools. It was while you were at Beaver College that large numbers of students began to study abroad, so that, as your class marched into the commencement ceremonies, nearly one-third of you wore sashes denoting the one or more countries where you had pursued credit-bearing academic programs. During your years here, a number of sports teams were able to play on regulation fields on campus for the first time in years.

Yours was a class that also gave back to the institution in so many ways. The class of 2001 has excelled all others in the “Senior Challenge.” Class officers and class leaders have engaged in worthy projects both on campus and in service to the larger community. You leave a legacy that will close “The Beaver Years” with pride. Now, as in the times to come, you hold a very special distinction—as graduates of the last class of Beaver College, you embody time past, and yours is also the beginning of time future as you become the first class of alumni of the new Arcadia University.

Congratulations and very best wishes as you move through the decades of time and change in your own lives and may you continue to be part of the future of all of us at Beaver/Arcadia who have been so very much a part of your years here.

Sincerely,

Bette Landman,
President

Mom and Ricky – thanks! You are both loved. A.B.A.T.W. LP, LC, MD, KS, may you always have green lights! Everyone at the Beav who has guided me along the way – you will never be forgotten, may my smiles be with you always! I’m going to Disney World!

First and most important I would like to thank my husband, Nick for supporting and encouraging me to finish school and to never give up. My son, Nicky for being so patient when I just “didn’t have the time.” I love you. To my parents for guiding me in the right direction and helping me become the person I am today. Monique, Sheryll & Ros we spent a hell of a lot of time together and despite all our differences we pulled through together. Forget those stressful times, we did it. Good luck to you girls and the class of 2001!
To my parents, thank you for giving me this wonderful opportunity. Scott, I'm going to miss you, you're the best friend and roommate a guy could ask for. Maureen, make me proud! To LeAnn, my best friend forever, I'm glad my future will always have you in it.

To Mommy and Grandmom- How can I ever thank you enough for all of your love and support over the years? You have sacrificed a lot to get me this far and I truly appreciate it with all my heart. I only hope and pray that I can continue to make you proud of me. To my four best friends in the whole world...THE DIVAS. Together, let's show the world what we are made of!!! I love you all so much!!! To all my family and friends- thanks for the love, the lessons (Boy, there were many), and the encouragement. To all of the HATERS (you know who you are) you really have inspired me to reach for the stars and despite what you thought of me I made it anyway. Hugs and Kisses, Jenaye.

Remember: 1) those hilarious nights in the dining hall, laughin and yellin at the top of our lungs, 2) showin up at all the Beaver parties, anxious to get thrown out, 3) dye'n your hair so many colors you can't even remember what your natural one was, 4) playin your music so loud that no one liked you on your hall. Oh...maybe that was just me. Thank you to all my "true" friends 'cause you're partly responsible for who I am today. To my family, I love you. You support everything I do, so this degree rightfully belongs to you too. And to those who tell me "stay crazy," "stay sweet," all I wanna do is be me. Party over here.

Thanks to my family for their love and support! I wouldn’t be here without your encouragement, I love you! Nicole – thank you for everything you’ve done for me. I would not be graduating from Beaver without your help. Christy – we’ve grown to be great friends, let’s stay that way. Keep in touch. To everyone else I’ve grown to be friends with but drifted apart from, please know that you will always be in my heart. Take care and good luck with the future.
Thank you to my parents for all of their love and support. Thanks also to my best friends Joyce and Jill, for being there and listening. You have been truly supportive. Thank you to all of the friends I have made at Beaver. You truly made my time at Beaver memorable. I wish all of you the best of luck in the future and your future endeavors.
I would like to thank my husband, Mike. Your encouragement and understanding has given me the strength to succeed. Thank you so much for your support while I spent the last decade working full time and attending classes at night. Without your help and sacrifices, I would not have been able to finish. You are truly the love of my life, and my best friend. I love you lots. A special thanks to my daughter Erin, for all the nights she had to go to bed before mommy came home from school. Now that I am finished, I promise to read you a story every night...you won't hear me say "sorry sweetie, I have to do homework."

First, I would like to thank God for giving me the strength to get this far and without him, none of this would be possible. I would also like to thank my mom for her love, support, and encouragement. I love you, mommy! I would like to thank everyone who had my back; I love each and every one of you! I did it!

"Lots of people go to college for nine years." "Yeah, they're called doctors." I finally did it – all my love and thanks to Joan Emily. Thanks to my sisters and parents for always backing me. Joan – thank you for making me the man I was meant to be! 8! Go class of 1996!

I would like to first thank God, because I know that without him I would have never made it through these last five years at Beaver College. I would also like to give lots of thanks and gracious appreciation to my parents for supporting me while I attended Beaver College, and without their support I don’t think I would have made it through college. I would like to thank them for helping with my son Gabriel, because it’s a hard job trying to take care of a baby and attend college at the same time. I would also like to thank my grandmother and other family members for their support. I would like to thank all of the communications professors for their support and understanding. I would especially like to give mad thanks to Professor Dr. Deshpande for being such a wonderful teacher and advisor. He taught me that your opinion is everything, and that who cares what others think. You’re not put here to make anyone happy. I would also like to thank the Dean, Jan Walbert, for giving me a second chance at Beaver College. Remember that “In order to achieve you cannot worry about anyone but yourself...”

Kendra Stoner

Thank you to my family for all their support. To my friends from Beaver – things just wouldn’t have been the same without you. From day one, there have been some incredible times. I wish you the best. “Only true friends will leave footprints in your heart.” I love you all.

Dawn Sweeney

Dana Rebekah Tabron

I would like to thank my Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, for helping me make it this far. Without him, none of this would be possible. I would also like to thank my natural family, spiritual family, and friends for encouraging me and supporting me throughout my college years.
I have met a lot of wonderful and interesting people and have made a lot of friends over the past 15 years of my Continuing Education. There are so many people to thank from my advisor, Professor Bill Biggs who provided guidance and support from the very beginning to my many friends and classmates. Special thanks goes to my husband Jack, who’s understanding, encouragement, and confidence help me make it through.

Fran Tendall

I would like to thank my parents for such a great opportunity. Beaver is a beacon of hope. I would also like to thank my friends for their tact. The interesting folks I have met are like the stepping stones of my dreams. Quote: “There is a certain comfort in being confused, but a confusing comfort in being yourself.”

I want to thank my mom and dad for teaching me the value of a strong faith, and a good education. I will treasure both for the rest of my life. I would also like to thank my wonderful friends. To my wonderful friends from Beaver, Angie, Sarah, Amber, and Nikki, you have helped me in ways I will never be able to explain, thank you. To my amazing friends from home, Melissa, Kristi, Kathleen, Shaun, Cyndi, Matt, and Maddie, I love you and thank you for touching my heart, and making me smile.

CASEY REBECCA OSTASZEWSKI

She’s 64 and ½ inches tall with a passion for living that surrounds a spirit, kind, considerate and giving. With a quick and easy smile she’s always willing to share and a loving, generous, heart that knows how to care.

Brown eyes that shine at life’s wonderful pleasures. A soul that recognizes people as the true treasures. She’s a daughter who brings her family much pride. Her loveliness enchanted by a beautiful spirit inside.

A soul that dances to the dreams that children tell. Filled with desire and resolve to do every job well. Creative, dedicated, imaginative, funny and smart. Everything she does, she does with all her heart.

She’s laughter, she’s joy, and her parent’s delight. Whenever she sees a wrong, she’ll make it right. She’s a loyal friend who reaches for life with a zest.

Introducing to the world, Casey Rebecca, the best.

LISA PEPE

Dear Lisa,
Congratulations. We are very proud of you and your accomplishments at Beaver. We wish you the best of luck and happiness always. You have a bright future ahead of you. Always stay the same kind and considerate person you are now. Believe in yourself. We love you very much. Thank you for making us proud.

Love You Always,

Dear Sarah,
Now that you're graduating there are many fond memories to recall. When you were little, you had such awe and wonder in your twinkling eyes every time you did something new and exciting: going to the circus; sitting in Minnie Mouse's lap; petting the oxen at Williamsburg.

Then there were good times at the cabin: your dance show; swimming and tubing in the Delaware; Zorro's first prize at the farm show. Fun times at Virginia Beach; fishing and riding bike on the path from hell.

Remember the times at law school -- "Mom, is a noogie a tort?", the trial competition trip, "Grandpa, write 'I will wear my seatbelt' 100 times. And no diddle marks!", and the time you broke your nose.

Never lose the enthusiasm, awe and wonder you had as a child. I wish you all the success life can bring.

JASON A. DREHER

Jason,
Through the years as you were growing up you set challenges for yourself. Whether it was school, soccer, football, basketball or personal you proved that you had what it takes to achieve them. The hardest challenge in your life is now complete, college. Again you have achieved it. The next challenge of your life are the goals that you will set forth in your future. We know you will achieve these as you have proven in the past. Remember we will always be there for you. Congratulations!! We are very proud of you!!

All our love,
Mom & Dad

Way to go, Jason.

Lauren Shira Gold

There’s a story to be told about Lauren Shira Gold
She has always brought us pride with who she is inside through her travels, her faith and the kids who are dear her passion for life is very clear. Now from Beaver College (not Arcadia) she will graduate and all of her efforts and accomplishments we congratulate! Wherever she goes, our love she won’t lack because we’ll always love her to the moon and...
When I first laid eyes on you the world stopped.
An experience like this could never be topped.
I was humbled by your innocence and beauty.
You were my baby girl, my little cutie.
I loved to watch you from morning to night.
There’s nothing on earth I would not do.
You started to walk, talk, and to read,
From a little girl to a woman you began to grow,
Please listen, there’s something you need to know.
I’m so proud of you, in so many ways,
I love you and support you throughout your days.
From empty shells, you’re that special pearl,
You will always be My Little Girl.
