DEDICATION

we survey all masks
and approach the visible symbols the shadow of power
we penetrate one mask transcend the shadow to expression and the voice identifies the movement of reality
the mask echoes the voice the tireless essence possessed by the human form to diffuse into life life moves to the paramount of self for selfless ideals life thrives only by identifying essence
and the conscious moment climaxes with success
in our moment voice and mask perfected project inspire ensphere eloquent in form in accent impress
marvel at the essence of voice attempt the struggle to diffuse it into life

"You will understand that it is with mingled feelings that I send this, my last Log greeting, to you.

Beaver and its students have been so much of the life of Mrs. Kistler and me for the last twenty years, that I am not anticipating the breaking of this formal tie. I will not forget you, and I hope you will not forget me. I am very happy over the plans that have been developed to make Beaver an Alma Mater of which you can be increasingly proud, and I extend my wishes to all of you and to your new president for success and happiness in the years to come."

pattern of opposites—life serenity challenged by strife overcome by memory
terminating strife
memory of nobility stalwart sturdy to build with grains of sand irregular mold emerges

combining with mass
steel beams fly skyward structure set edifice stalwart sturdy strength sustained
strong light
illuminates sure purpose vital diffusing energy impressed on shaded minds wisdom refines hues
tempered by flame
perfected in trial
power sustained
through permanent light

IN MEMORIAM
SHEILA CASEY

death — silent sudden stole into the heart of youth body quivered
bleak night became eternal morning — a new light sting of pain still strong memory — embryo of the challenge faltering steps into strength Seek and ye shall find — a fourth!

Twas the week before Christmas ... four years later

And someday maybe . . .
Yes, there is a Santa Claus.

Week-end plans

Last class before vacation . . . hold the bus!

Bright day ahead!
"Have you consulted the Variorum for alternate meanings to that quotation?"

Come on, seniors . . .
Avoid the 5:40 — lab line!

I think I lost my dink!

Relaxation . . . ah!

I'll just browse around . . . if you don't mind.
they perceive suspension . . . almost sense amazement That corner looks fine... what about the rest of the page?

I don't think so girls; Mr. Presley lacks operatic qualities!

So that's what it's supposed to look like!

SYNCHRONIZED SWIMMING
the expectation of reality... geometric patterns cut with fearless resistance upon a basis WHO'S WHO
we retrospect upon who's who dark masses exposed in space images without formal pattern encompass achromatic shades primal motion exhibits form the wavering graspings extend into designs as if propelled from the opalescence of soul full spectrum tints the image enriched reflections brighten the reality of creative mind balance activates imitations we preview life's expectation excited by the bursting light

EDITORS MESSAGE

The staff of the 1960 Log has tried to create a book that is unique. With emphasis on literary impressionism and artistic abstraction, we hope we have succeeded in presenting this record of our college life in a form appealing and expressive.

If our purpose has been realized, it has been through the thoughtful cooperation of varied talents, and in acknowledgment for their help I wish to thank —
