This blueprint,
Spread upon the yet bare earth,
Is but a chart
That still must prove its worth,
A guide to those
Who build with finite stone
The infinite ideas
That here are drawn.

The purpose of the Association is to further the interest of Beaver College; to foster among its graduates and former students the spirit of fellowship and service; to secure unity of action in continuing the well-being of the college; and to promote the cause of higher education for women.

The function of the Alumnae Office on campus is to maintain records and addresses of alumnae, to consult with committee chairmen, club presidents, and class agents, to maintain an interest in the Alumnae Association among the student body, to encourage interest in Beaver College among students of secondary schools, and to coordinate alumnae and college activities.

"Is there a quorum present?" has always been one of the chief questions at compulsory Student Council and S.G.A. meetings. These two organizations are the most important cogs in the extra-curricular wheel of Beaver. The latter group, S.G.A., is made up of the entire student body and, at its monthly meetings, discusses and votes upon all sorts of problems which affect both the academic and non-academic aspects of college life. The Council, on the other hand, is the "hierarchy" of our democratic governing procedure; at its weekly meetings it screens many problems before they reach the larger meetings, deliberates on cases involving major infringements of college regulations, and passes various types of minor legislation.

HONOR COUNCIL

One of the most important councils at Beaver is the Honor Council. Having an academic honor system, Beaver students are unproctored in examinations and are expected to remain on their honor. This council tries cases of any infringement of the honor system and assigns penalties. Each student feels a personal responsibility for upholding the system, each trying to make it more effective.

NOMINATING COUNCIL

Beaver elections are under the control of Nominating Council. Incorporated under this council is the Point Committee, which checks on the extra-curricular activity points of each student. Preparing the nominations, running campaigns, promoting voting, and counting the ballots—all these constitute the work of Nominating Council.
DORMITORY COUNCIL

These are the girls who delve into such mysteries as "The Screams at Midnight" and "The Case of the Tardy Watch" (better known as "Where, Oh Where, Has Washington Lane Gone?"). It is also their job to set up and enforce all regulations governing dormitory behavior and to enact such discipline as is made necessary by the infringement of these rules by the students. The Council consists of the first and second house presidents and the corridor representatives of each of the dormitories.

DAY STUDENT COUNCIL

The Day Student Council is the group through which the suggestions and problems of the day students are brought to the attention of the rest of the student body. This council helps to unify the college and sponsors such activities as the annual picnic, dance, and mixer.

Seated, left to right: June Hirsch, Betsy Hamilton (Pres.), Connie Shaffer (Sec.), Doris Kalfian.
Standing: Carolyn Manzelman, Mary M. Hill, Lucille LaMorgese, Isabel Comstock, Alice Alexander.

It is the function of the Forum of Arts and Sciences to stimulate the interest of the student body in various types of cultural pursuits. The Forum Committee is a small group composed of an equal number of students and faculty members chosen so as to represent each of the major academic departments of the college. This year, at the friendly informal meetings, the members have attempted to balance the extra-curricular budget and provide interesting lecturers and assembly programs; they have also granted club charters and enjoyed laughing at the verbal gymnastics of their president, Greta Funk.
TRADITION

Sponsoring bonfires, informal dances, and, in general, contributing spirit to the Beaver campus has been the function of Tradition.

STUDENT COUNSELORS

The guiding lights of the freshmen—the Student Counselors! The girls are chosen for their guidance ability and ability to work with others. They lead the frosh through those first few weeks of “greenie” tipping and registration, the nightmare of all. A candlelight service is held at the end of the year at which each member receives a small token for her work.

Y.W.C.A. CABINET

"Hi, little sister!" "Hello, big sis!" These greetings are one of the many good results of the Y.W.C.A.'s work. In addition to the Big-Sister-Little-Sister program, the "Y", under this year's President, Pat Smith, plans the senior tea, several social welfare activities, Religious Emphasis Week, and one chapel service each week.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Basketball, hockey, softball—all seasons of the year find the A.A. busy with the sports activities of the college. The A.A. sponsors a hockey camp in the fall, supporting it from funds raised by their annual A.A. Show. This association is responsible for creating good sportsmanship and an interest in athletics on the Beaver Campus.

STUDENT'S HANDBOOK
BETTY ANNE RIZZOTTE, the Editor-in-Chief

The Handbook is perhaps the most important publication for the frosh and upperclassmen as well. In it are stated the rules by which we live, and to which we must conform. A consultation with the Handbook will confirm any doubts concerning late permissions, smoking in rooms, and chapel cutting. Thus the age-old cry of the housemothers is "Look in your Handbook!"

INTER-COLLEGIATE CONFERENCE ON GOVERNMENT

For girls interested in state and federal government, the I.C.G., with Marjorie Updegrove as president, strives to distribute knowledge about legal and governmental procedure. Included in their activities is their participation in the Model Nominating Convention in Harrisburg.

"Where's the copy?" "Where are the pictures?" "Where's the layout?" "Don't you know Nick's coming tomorrow and we have to give him the whole book?!" These words describe some of the frantic last minute rushing as we send our yearbook off to be printed. We have tried very hard to give you a pictorial and literary memory of the year 1951-52 that you will be proud of. We hope we have succeeded.
"Get Rian's speeches"—"Check the spelling of that student's name"—"MEET THAT DEADLINE!" These are just a few of the familiar phrases heard issuing from the Publications Room the week before the "News" appears in the students' mailboxes.

The "News" is a paper by and for Beaver students and does not reflect the opinions of the faculty or administration—only the staff!
"Won't someone please write for the Beaver Review?" has been the familiar cry from the basement headquarters of the college literary magazine, whose aim is to bring the best in native literary and illustrative talent before the student body for their general enjoyment and appreciation.

CAMPUS CHEST

"Let's make our goal!" may very well be the theme song of the Campus Chest Committee. This organization has united all the fund-gathering projects on campus into one drive.

RED CROSS

Combining forces with the National Red Cross, Beaver's chapter is active in sponsoring such worthwhile projects as a Blood Donor Drive and frequent trips to nearby hospitals to entertain the service men.
STUDENT VOLUNTEER MOVEMENT

The S.V.M. is an organization on campus for those students interested in discussing foreign missions. This year the group raised enough money to send a delegate to a conference in Kansas where students from all parts of the country assembled.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Canterbury Club, which gives the Episcopalian girls an opportunity to get together, meets with Mr. Fifer, rector of All Hallows Church in Wyncote, twice a month. The group has also sponsored a communion service in our chapel every Wednesday morning.
Hillel, a recent addition to our organizations, is an interest group for the Jewish girls at Beaver. The members sponsor speakers, teas, informal dances, and discussion groups.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club presents an opportunity for Catholic girls at Beaver to meet and participate in communion breakfasts, a day of recollection, and visits to the home of the club mother and other women of the parish. Informal dances with nearby colleges are also sponsored.
SOCIOLOGY CLUB

Students majoring in Sociology are especially urged to join this club, whose activities consist of taking field trips, doing social welfare work, hearing speakers, and having discussion groups throughout the year.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

"How would Freud explain my nightmare last night?" This might be one of the questions under discussion at the meetings of the newly originated Psychology Club. Led by President Betty Aronson, the club presents speakers and discusses present-day psychological problems at its monthly gatherings.
INTERNSATIONAL
RELATIONS CLUB

Beaver's I.R.C. does not claim to be able to run the world better than the top diplomats can, but it does try hard to make students more aware of world affairs. The club plans and participates in conferences such as the Model U.N. here at Beaver last year.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

"What's the newest length in skirts for next week's fashion show?" This question may present itself as one of the problems in this club, which works on projects that benefit the entire student body, such as cheerful new draperies for the Beaver smoker.
CHEMISTRY CLUB

"I spent only twenty hours in the lab last week!" This exclamation may be overheard at one of the meetings of the Chemistry Club headed by Jo Lissfelt. The club strives to promote interest in chemistry among the students and introduce new trends in chemical research.

KEY AND CUE CLUB

The Key and Cue Club, chartered in 1948, presents Beaver's all original musical comedy. Unbelievable talent is discovered and any student may try out for the show. After a student has worked in the show a number of times, she may be chosen as a member of the club.
The Theatre Playshop

"Enunciate clearly" may be heard resounding through the Little Theatre as another play begins production. Theatre Playshop is for all students interested in any phase of the drama. Miss Elders appearances on television and the presentation of Dr. Faustus were some of the highlights.

Managerial Board

The Managerial Board is responsible for outlining the whole sports program all through the year. The board is made up of all the managers of both the varsity and intramural teams. The board sees that the games are scheduled on the right days and publicizes the events for the students.
CHOIR

A small group of select singers, the Choir is directed by Beaver Alumna, Mrs. Dorothy Haupt. The girls sing at chapel services, special vespers services on campus, and at church services in the Philadelphia area.

GLEE CLUB

"Take a deep breath, girls." "Eyes off your notes, ladies." "Who’s missing in the alto section?"—These are the words frequently heard in Taylor Chapel once each week at the Glee Club rehearsals, under the direction of Dr. Lawrence Curry. The group often presents programs (alone or combined with male clubs from nearby colleges) in Murphy Chapel, local churches, other colleges, and in guest appearances in Philadelphia.

PI DELTA EPSILON

White carnations and candlelight, little olive-colored handbooks and a six-sided gold key, a handshake, national conventions, the pooling of ideas and ideals, friendships... these are the things that comprise the meaning and memories of Pi Delta Epsilon, the campus's national honorary journalism fraternity.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA

The honorary fraternity in philosophy discusses present-day philosophical problems in addition to discussing established masters. Required courses in philosophy are necessary to become a member of the society.
Future teachers of America—Membership in Kappa Delta Pi, honorary fraternity in education, is based upon interest and scholarship in education. The organization sponsors a tea each year for prospective teachers, and at its meetings has outstanding members of the teaching profession as speakers.

KAPPA DELTA PI

PSI CHI

Delving into the "inner mind" is the activity of the members of Psi Chi, honorary fraternity in psychology. This year, the group, composed of psychology majors and minors, has attempted particularly to work in conjunction with the Temple University Chapter of Psi Chi.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

The fraternity for future Sarah Bernhardts and Ethel Barrymores is Alpha Psi Omega, honorary national dramatic society. The members are elected on the basis of the work they have contributed to dramatics at Beaver, points being accumulated for positions held and parts played.

PENTATHLON

The oldest honorary society at Beaver is Pentathlon. Perhaps the outstanding feature of the society is its day-long initiation, which if not so amusing to the initiates, is certainly entertaining to the rest of the campus! In association with the A.A., Pentathlon is interested in fostering a greater participation in sports on the Beaver campus.
LAMBDA DELTA ALPHA

Exclusive in its membership, Lambda Delta Alpha is the senior honor society at Beaver College. Membership is based on outstanding scholarship, leadership, and character. Recognition of its members is made at Honors Day each year. The members have attained the highest grade point ratio in the senior class throughout their four years at Beaver.

Seated left to right: Jean Quig and Dorothy Reisgen. Standing: Doris Kalfaian and Janet Morris.

(Not pictured): Cynthia McKelvy and Carol Dunham.

WHO’S WHO

The traditional black cap and gown picture in the yearbook each year is of the girls chosen to have their names published in "Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities." The girls this year were chosen by the faculty and administration on the basis of leadership, scholarship, and character.
Machines of strength
With power to create
Fill up the barren space,
And soon the air,
Once listless and unmoved,
Rings with their vibrant clamor.
"Remember the Five Feeble-minded Forwards, Mrs. 'C'?"—What would the hockey team do without them? This team began practicing long before school started and kept swinging those sticks even in the snow. Cynie led her team through a season of four wins, two ties, and two losses. A highlight of the year was the choosing of freshman Marlene Lochner for the All-College first team and four other team members for the second team.

One of the most thrilling sports to watch, basketball is always an annual favorite. Mrs. Mack's patient coaching, Ozzie's good leadership, and quite a few veterans are some of the reasons for the team's good season this year.
MODERN DANCE CLUB

"Sleigh Ride," "Shrimp Boots," and "Dry Bones" are only a few of the dances the club presented on television this year. They were also responsible for the dances in the A.A. show and the May Day pageant. Leaping, stretching, and bending are well known key words to these modern dancers.

The swimming team this year was the best Beaver has had in three years and deserves a special recognition for beating Ursinus for the first time in four years. The proud captain was Phyl Saxton.

Precision, grace, and beautiful formations are characteristic of Beaver's swimming club. The members have been responsible for some fascinating water ballets in past years.

SWIMMING TEAM
SOFTBALL TEAM

One! Two! Thr—No! It's a home run!!—Naturally! Beaver's softball team always hits 4 baggers. This sport is one of the most popular at Beaver and the team, captained by Phyl Saxton, did its best to make it one of the most successful.

Beaver's lacrosse team is so much a part of the spring sports program that it's hard to believe it first appeared on our campus only five years ago. This year's team had not one but three captains! This fact helped to make them tough competition for Penn, Drexel, Bryn Mawr, and Swarthmore.

RIFLE TEAM

NATIONAL WOMEN'S INTER-COLLEGIATE CHAMPIONS 1948-1950-1951

This team deserves a special headline for its past records and is one that Beaver is always extremely proud of. Most of the girls had never held a rifle before they came to Beaver, but their coach, Mr. Schober, soon had them hitting that black center on the target every time. The team, captained by Bev Gifford, has an average score of about 99—hard to beat anywhere. Their arch rivals are Drexel and Oklahoma A & M, who placed second and third, respectively, in the Nationals last year. A yearly match is always shot with the boys from P.M.C., and they never fail to be amazed at the fact that they get beaten by a bunch of girls who shoot only 40 shots per week, when to them, 50 or 60 shots a day is compulsory. (Now who is the weaker sex?)

MR. SCHOBER, their coach

The structure grows
Upon its new foundation —
Beams, now riveted,
Challenging the sky —
Even the academic ivy
Knows its place
And starts to wind
About the rising steel.
Thus,
Stone upon ivied stone,
It looms
Until the walls stand up,
Straight and sturdy,
And the superstructure
Nears its slow completion.
That first glimpse of Beaver's campus... Freshman Week... so much to do and so much fun... the upper classmen arrive... crazy dress... "How low is a freshman?"... "Tip! Tip! Tip!"... "Will they lose those caps?"... dance at Towers... first Song Contest... Christmas and no more greenies... those awful exams and "I'm sure I flunked!"... lucky those who made their ratios... talented musicians and dancers... a class already an integral part of Beaver.

And now Approach
And heed the open door's
Bright framework in the sunlight,
Reflecting
But ten-fold
The rich fulfilment
Of the builder's dream
That shall, beyond,
Be yet more fully seen.

seniors
Yes, there it stands,
The completed work of many hands and hours;
The ancient blueprint given life
By years of builders, architects,
By beams, and walls,
By tools, machines —
See it rising in the sun;
Strong, mature, and individual,
Ready to defy
Life's wildest tempests
With its sure well-building,
Ready to be tried
And waiting only
For the dedication.
"Imagine—We are seniors!"... four years gone so fast... stately and proud, wearing caps and gowns at that first S.G.A. meeting... disappointment at Song Contest... second place for three straight years... Senior-Faculty Dinner and those talented freshmen... more rings and marriages at Christmas... "Will we win Play Contest again?"... our turn to present candidates and Beaver rings... "At last, I can sleep every morning!"... Alumnae dinner in honor of USI... "If only I could find a job!"... May Day and our queen... really final exams... no spring schedules to make out... Senior Week... Mr. Barlow’s picnic... last lunch together... Senior Ball with that special one... Class Day... smoking in the dining room... Lantern Chain... Father-Daughter Dance... Baccalaureate... "Please don’t let it rain!"... graduation day at last!... those precious diplomas... final good-byes... sad faces... so many memories... misty eyes turned toward the future with hope of a better world.

dedication

In solemn state
We dedicate
Our lives, our hearts, our book
To those
Who, through the rushing years,
Have wrought
From native stone
And steel, that oft' resisted
The pressure of the mould,
A shining modern edifice
To be used
As they would sell —
To house those fine ideals
With which
The first plan was conceived,
To utilize the iron strength
That made that blueprint real.
To fill their dream
With eager life
And wreath with good intent
The motto on the cornerstone,
To Service Truth, and Love!
IN APPRECIATION

The Beaver Log staff of 1952 wishes to extend its sincere thanks and appreciation:

to Dr. Doris Fenton, Literary Adviser to the Yearbook, for her constructive criticism and advice regarding all literary material; to Mr. Benton Spruance, Yearbook Faculty Adviser, for ready assistance in all phases of yearbook production; to Mr. Nicholas Ickes of the Colyer-Roux Printing Company for patiently and personally assisting the yearbook staff in carrying out its highest aims; to Mr. Marvin Merin, Jr., of Merin Studios, Photographers, for photographic advice and instruction;

to Mr. Thomas Barlow for financial advice and photographic assistance;

to Miss Judith Elder for securing for us prints of Dr. Faustus;

to Miss Frances Lewis for the use of photographs from Public Relations files;

and to all those students who assisted with the yearbook photography.
